CCI FEELS DISNEY-RELIANCE MERGER CAN HARM COMPETITION: REPORT

According to Reuters, CCI feels the merger of Reliance and Disney assets harms competition due to their power over cricket broadcast rights

MERGER TO CREATE MEDIA BEHEMOTH

The Competition Commission of India's view is a setback to the two firms, whose proposed merged entity would have lucrative rights worth billions of dollars for the broadcast of cricket. Antitrust experts point out that the proposed merger will create India's biggest entertainment player with a combined strength of 120 TV channels and two streaming services | P13

CRICKET RIGHTS BONE OF CONTENTION

- "Cricket is the biggest pain point for CCI," Reuters quoted a source as saying
- The CCI has given the two firms 30 days to explain their position. Reuters said CCI earlier sent Reliance and Disney around 100 questions on the merger
- The firms reportedly said they are willing to sell fewer than 10 television channels to assuage concerns about market power and win early approval

LATERAL ENTRY QUOTA COMING

Proposed hiring nixed; PM wants to rework scheme to apply reservation for those posts too

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

BARELY three days after the Union Public Service Commission (UPSC) announced 45 vacancies for lateral entry of officers into the bureaucracy, the Centre killed it, heeding to concerns from within the ruling NDA and without.

The decision came ahead of assembly elections in J&K and Haryana amid the Opposition's attack over the lack of quota for those positions. The Lok Janshakti Party (Ram Vilas) and the Janatal Dal (United), both NDA allies, too, shared their concerns over the proposed recruitment. Quota is a political hot potato that parties can ignore only at their peril.

"Since, these positions have been treated as specialized and designated as single-cadre posts, there has been no provision for reservation in these appointments," Union Minister of State for Personnel Jitendra Singh reasoned. However, Prime Minister Narendra Modi wants to explore the possibility of introducing quota in lateral entries as well, he indicated.

Singh wrote to UPSC Chairperson Preeti Sudan following Modi's directive to cancel the advertisement, so that marginalised communities get their rightful representation in government services. Hours later, the advert was withdrawn.

"This aspect (no quota for single-cadre posts) needs to be reviewed and reformed in the context of the Hon'ble Prime Minister's focus on ensuring social justice," Singh said.

Sources said comments of all stakeholders would be taken into account by the government to find out whether or not reservation can be applied to lateral entry recruitment.

Dilating on the matter, Ashwini Vaishnaw, Minister for Railways, said, "UPSC adopted a very transparent method for lateral entry. Now we have decided to apply the principle of reservation in that too. Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi ji has always shown his commitment towards social justice," he said.

"We gave constitutional status to the OBC Commission which was earlier an ordinary body. Be it NEET, Sainik Vidyalaya or Navodaya Vidyalaya, we have implemented the principle of reservation everywhere," Vaishnaw added.

However, Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge said it was due to the campaign by Rahul Gandhi and the INDIA bloc that the government was forced to take a step back on the matter.

INTRODUCING TRANSPARENCY

Thane erupts over sex assault of minor girls in private school

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

MASSIVE protests broke out on Tuesday at Badlapur in Maharashtra's Thane district over the alleged sexual assault of two girls, aged 4 and 6 years, at a private English medium school by the school sweeper.

Hundreds of protesters blocked railway tracks at Badlapur station. With the protesters occupying tracks, 15 long-distance trains were diverted while local train services were suspended for about 10 hours.

Police resorted to baton charge after the protesters refused to disperse and started pelting stones at policemen.

Meanwhile, another group of protesters, many of them parents, vandalised the school building to express their anger and disgust over the assault.

The protesters demanded harsh punishment for the accused, 23-year-old Akshay Shinde. The incidents took place on August 12 and 13 but the accused was arrested only on August 17. The parents of the girls were allegedly made to wait 11 hours at the police station before the FIR was filed.

Police sources said the investigation revealed several lapses on the part of the school. There was no female attendant or cleaner for the girl toilet, a basic safety requirement. The accused was entrusted with cleaning the girl's toilet, where the sexual assault took place. Police officials said most of the CCTV cameras installed at the school were not working.

National task force to frame norms on safety of docs: SC

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

DESCRIBING the ongoing protests against the horrific rape and murder of a trainee doctor at a government hospital in Kolkata as a moment of national catharsis, the Supreme Court on Tuesday constituted a 10-member National Task Force headed by surgeon-major R P Sarin to formulate guidelines for ensuring the safety, security and facilities to doctors and healthcare staff in hospitals across India.

Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud

CBI PROBE'S STATUS REPORT

The court directed the CBI to file its probe status report by August 22, when it would take up the matter further. The task force has been asked to submit its interim report within three weeks

A three-judge bench led by the Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud termed the incident "horrific and horrendous", adding it indicated a systemic failure of the state machinery.

The court hauled up the Kolkata police and the state government for its inaction in the case and allowing a mob to vandalise the RG Kar Medical College and Hospital, where the victim was murdered.

The CJI questioned Bengal's counsel Kapil Sibal as to how RG Kar's Sandip Ghosh was appointed the head of another college hours after he stepped down as principal; why Ghosh initially tried to pass the death off as suicide; why the registration of FIR was delayed; what was the police doing when the hospital was invaded by a mob; and why did the police fail to secure the crime scene?

While urging the agitating health care practitioners to return to work, the court warned the Bengal government not to take punitive action against them. "Let the power of the state not be unleashed on them at all. Please deal with them with sensitivity. This is a moment for national catharsis," the court said.

The task force was asked to prepare an action plan on preventing violence, including gender-based violence against medical professionals; and an enforceable national protocol for dignified and safe working conditions for interns, residents, senior residents, doctors, nurses and all medical professionals. Expressing anguish, the CJI said, "What is equality under the Constitution if women cannot be safe in their workplace."

Sikkim landslide hits Teesta project

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR & JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ Guwahati/New Delhi

A massive landslide struck Sikkim on Tuesday, damaging parts of the National Hydroelectric Power Corporation's 510-mw hydroelectric project on the Teesta river at Dipudara in Gangtok district.

Gangtok collector Tushar Nikhare, who visited the site along with other officials, told this paper that the gas-insulated substations (GIS) building of the project was damaged.

Last year's glacial lake outburst flood had damaged the power station and it was under construction. NHPC said the Teesta basin region has been witnessing landslides during the ongoing monsoon season. "Today's incident also occurred due to subsidence/landslide over Tail Race Tunnel outlet structure and behind GIS building. This has affected TRT gate hoist structure and part of the GIS building," it said.

According to experts, manmade activities triggered the landslip. "The area received deficient rainfall in the past two weeks," said G N Raha, scientist, Met Centre Gangtok.

"There was no vegetation over the slid hills; also, the hills slope is above 45° inclined, which shows soil erosion due to manmade activities from both sides i.e. above the hills, residential buildings causing pressure over fragile phyllite stone and from downward NHPC's construction," said professor Manasi Debnath of Nagaland University.

V VELAYUDHAM @ Kolar

MULBAGAL police have arrested seven people, including four minor boys, for allegedly murdering a schoolteacher at Sunku Layout in Mulbagal town on August 14.

Central Range IGP Labhu Ram said the victim, Divya Shree, 46, worked as a teacher at Mudianur government school in Mulbagal taluk. Her husband is a financier. The main accused, Ranjith Kumar, 20, of Tirumanahalli, used to supply packaged drinking water to Divya Shree's house. On learning that the teacher hailed from a rich family, he hatched a plan to kill her and take away cash and gold ornaments.

As planned, Ranjith and other accused went to Divya Shree's house in the evening to deliver water. When she opened the door, they attacked her and slit her throat. Divya Shree's daughter Nisha, who was on the first floor, came down hearing her mother's cry for help. When the accused tried to attack her, she rushed to her room, locked herself and telephoned her father. By the time her father reached home, the accused fled, the IGP said.

SP Nikhil B said the other accused have been identified as Yuvaraj, 18, of Kondanahalli and Shaheed Pasha, 18, of Nangli. A search is on for three more accused.

SCREEN DOORS AT ALL METRO STNS MAY COST UP TO ₹500 CR

Real issue would be closure of ops to install, synchronise gates

Platform screen doors are already in use in Metro stations across Chennai (above) and Ahmedabad | S LALITHA

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE shocking incident on Monday of visually impaired students falling on Metro tracks has again led to the demand to install platform screen doors at Metro Rail stations. Metro officials peg the total cost at anywhere between Rs 450 crore and Rs 500 crore.

Metro officials agree that the screen doors will enhance passenger safety and ensure uninterrupted operations. A spate of suicides and suicide attempts have taken place on Metro tracks disrupting operations.

A top Metro official said it could cost up to Rs 7 crore plus additional GST to install these doors at each of the 65 stations. "It could cost double at the Kempegowda station as it has four platforms," he said.

Asked if Rs 500 crore really matters, considering the safety of passengers, he said, "It is up to the state and the Centre to fund it. BMRCL's operational profit now goes towards paying the annual interest of nearly Rs 90 crore," he said. It would help if different companies take it up under their CSR initiative, he said. The doors need to be of sturdy and of excellent quality to sustain in the long run," he added.

Chennai and Ahmedabad Metros already have such doors, while Delhi Metro is installing half-screen doors for elevated stations and full-screen doors for underground stations, he said. "Our daily revenue is Rs 2 crore, while theirs is Rs 12 crore," he said.

Another official said the bigger issue is just the three-hour window available every night to carry out installation works. "Many workers, equipment and infrastructure is needed. Train operations have to be stopped temporarily. The bigger issue is synchronisation. The screen door needs to open simultaneously with the train door. It is not impossible but extremely tough to install after operations have started," he added.

BMRCL MD Maheshwar Rao said plans are on to install such doors at Kempegowda and Sir M Visvesvaraya stations.

Chief Public Relations Officer BL Yashavanth Chavan said tenders have already been awarded to Alstom to install the doors for the underground corridor on Phase-2 of Pink Line and the airport terminal station and half-height platform screen gates at the airport's Metro station.

Green Line closed for trials, but clueless crowds land at stations

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

WITH BMRCL announcing late on Monday that Green Line operations would be shut from Peenya Industry Station to Nagasandra on Tuesday to facilitate signalling tests for an upcoming line, it was a nightmare for hundreds of commuters during peak morning and evening hours.

With trains originating from Peenya Industry at 5 am, commuters who usually boarded at Nagasandra, Jalahahalli and Dasarahalli landed here, and the queue to enter the station stretched along Tumakuru Main Road.

BMRCL's poor preparedness added to their agony. Commuters who came on vehicles opted to ride till the next station, Peenya. Instead of opening both entries to manage the crowd, BMRCL continued with its regular single entry.

Rajath, assistant manager at a private firm, boards a train at Nagasandra and commutes till Trinity Circle. "The minute I reached Peenya Industry around 8am, I knew I was in trouble. I found a parking slot with much difficulty. With only one person scanning all baggage, I knew it would take very long. I took my vehicle and decided to go to Peenya and board a train. Luckily, I found space to park," he told TNIE.

The commuter added that many were not aware of the partial closure of train operations. "BMRCL should have made an announcement on board trains and platforms about it atleast yesterday. A notice should have been pasted outside stations too announcing it. This is very poor communication from their part," he said. Rajath said the nightmare continued in the evening when he returned to take his vehicle. "There was a long queue for parking, and took me 20 minutes to take it out of the parking lot," he said.

Commuters queue up at Peenya Industry Metro station on Tuesday morning | S LALITHA

Student Madhusudhan, a resident of Madanayakanahalli, took a bus to reach Peenya Industry in the morning. "There was a long queue and my baggage scan took ten minutes, the tapping of the card to enter the station also took some minutes. BMRCL should have opened both the entry gates for better crowd management," he said.

BMRCL officials conceded that they were taken aback by the crowd. "Peenya Industry is a small station and is among those with the lowest footfall. Today, we had ten times the usual crowd," he said.

BDA mulls taking loan for buying land for PRR

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE BDA is now working on securing loans from government lending institutions to manage the mammoth land acquistion cost of the Rs 27,000-crore Bengaluru Business Corridor (Peripheral Ring Road) project. It has narrowed down on four of them and preliminary talks have begun, said sources.

A whopping Rs 21,000 crore of the project, proposed 19 years ago, is expected to go towards land acquisition costs alone. Three rounds of tendering by the BDA in the past have not helped. The 73.01-km project runs from Tumakuru Road (NH-48) and passes via Doddaballapur Road, Ballari Road, Old Madras Road, Whitefield Road, and ends at Hosur Road (NH-44).

"We are looking at Housing and Urban Development Corporation Ltd (HUDCO), REC Limited, LIC Housing Finance Limited or the Karnataka Government Insurance Department to offer us a loan to meet the project cost. BDA would pay off the compensation amount to the landowners. With the construction set to cost only Rs 6,000 crore, there will be many bidders when we put out a tender for civil works," a source told TNIE.

The BDA was looking at applying for loan to cover the entire project cost. "Lending agencies would give us 70-80% of the project cost and this can be used to acquire land," he said.

"The state government will have to take a final call on it. We are proposing all available options to get the project started at the earliest," he added.

There will be a moratorium of 2-3 years for such loans. "We can just pay the interest during the period or only a portion of the principal amount and then start repaying the loan later. This can be done after the concessionaire builds the road, starts collecting toll and shares a portion of the revenue with us," the source said.

The state too can repay the loans when it earns increased revenue from the numerous charges collected by it.

Darshan can't get home food, govt tells HC

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE state government on Tuesday informed the Karnataka High Court that it had rejected the representations submitted by actor Darshan, who is in judicial custody in connection with the murder of Renukaswamy, seeking home food, on August 14. It said that as per the prison manual, he is not entitled to it since he is charged with murder.

Justice M Nagaprasanna adjourned the hearing of Darshan's plea, seeking directions to prison authorities to allow him to get home food till September 5. Before this, counsel for the petitioner sought time to file a reply to the rejection order, which has not yet reached their hands. The order of rejection stated that there was no mention of food poisoning in the medical report submitted by prison doctors in July 2024, which only suggests necessary treatment for problem of bones. Treatment was also provided for viral fever, besides ensuring bed rest.

Lokayukta inspects lakes, orders removal of encroachments

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING a slew of complaints on poor lake management in the Mahadevpura Zone, Lokayukta Justice BS Patil directed that the lacunae surrounding the Vibhutipura Lake Development Project be fixed, and set a month's deadline for officials to clear encroachments and establish the boundary of the water body. The Lokayukta also warned of action if officials failed to protect the city's water bodies.

A team including Upalokayukta Justices KN Phanindra and B Veerappa went on inspection, where they summoned officials from the BBMP Lake division, Zonal Commissioner, Karnataka State Pollution Control Board, and Revenue Department.

The officials were asked about the non-accumulation of water in the Vibhutipura lake, despite the downpour in recent days. The team also asked the Assistant Director of Land Records for a survey. The officials were to identify encroachments and submit a report within 20 days and gave the Palike a month to clear all encroachments. Meanwhile, it must be noted that 3-4 buildings have encroached on the lake space.

The Lokayukta also asked for water quality to be regularly checked, and directed the environment pollution officials to submit a report.

After locals apprised the Lokayukta that home guards had been attacked by some miscreants, he ordered that a police beat be despatched in the morning and evening to protect the public in the vicinity.

The team also visited Doddanekkundi Lake, where the surveyor informed that about 2 acres and 6 guntas of area is encroached. Residents alleged that apartment complexes and villas are being constructed on encroached lake land.

The BBMP Lake Department has been asked to give details about the Rs 14-crore works at Doddanekundi Lake.

NGO staffer injured after tree falls on auto, 3rd such incident in 10 days

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

AN NGO staffer, heading to work, suffered serious head and shoulder injuries after a tree crashed on the autorickshaw he was travelling in, in Sadashivanagar police limits on Tuesday.

The injured, Jeeva M, has been kept under observation in ICU, while the autorickshaw driver managed to escape with minor injuries. BBMP officials said the incident occurred around 12.30 pm.

Apart from the autorickshaw, a multi-utility vehicle (MUV) too was damaged and the driver suffered a fracture in his hand. This is the third such incident since August 12.

Deputy Conservator of Forest, BBMP, BLG Swamy said the range forest officer and other BBMP forest wing officials rushed to the spot and shifted the injured to a private hospital.

"Because of the impact of the tree fall, the victim has suffered a serious head injury and doctors have kept him under observation for 24 hours. The patient also requires spinal cord surgery later. The family was informed and the police are in touch with them. The MUV driver, identified as Darshan Sajjan, suffered a fracture in his hand and was discharged from hospital. The Palike will foot their hospital bills," Swamy added.

BBMP forest teams have been stationed across all the zones in the city to attend to tree fall and uprooting cases since June. The teams received hundreds of calls in June and also for a few days in July because of strong monsoon winds in those months, but no deaths or injuries were reported then. Only in the last ten days, there has been a death and injuries to several people because of tree falls.

The teams have intensified pruning of trees since the beginning of August and it will continue in September too, when the city receives high monsoon rainfall.

21st August : Mars is one of the important planets of the moment and its underlying message reveals the tendency to fight old battles. There is no clue as to whether this is desirable or not, but it might be useful if the result is to settle old feuds once and for all. Eventually we all have to let go of the past!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Events that took place over the last twenty-four hours, or may even still be happening, may be difficult to understand. This is absolutely fine, for the more effort you put into finding the solutions, the more experience you'll accumulate and the better you'll be prepared in the future.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
You have a week or so to say what you think, tell family members what to do and arrange matters at home to your satisfaction. After that, you will become increasingly reluctant to communicate, perhaps because you worry that partners' reactions will not be to your liking.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Don't imagine that you're helpless and incapable. If you're too passive today, fate will step in and you'll probably miss a very valuable opportunity indeed. Flex your muscles at home, and if people you live with know what's best for them, they'll agree with you without hesitation.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
You may be putting on a show of being terribly confident and outgoing, but any astrologer will tell you that you're holding a lot back. That's no bad thing, for you have to be sure of what you really think before you tell other people how you truly feel.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
Slow down and consider your future with care. One way or another, you should be absolutely sure of what's happening before you make your next move. The whole world is knee-deep in banana skins, and if you take too much for granted, you'll be the first to slip.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The overwhelming emphasis in your stars is on the public, professional, financial and social regions of your chart, indicating a predisposition to get involved in whatever's happening, even in activities that you'd normally think are beneath you.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
So many planets are encouraging you to excel yourself that I am sure you'll do better than usual. The daily planetary pattern is relatively adventurous, an indication that travel and long-distance plans require spicing up. All I can say is: keep your spirits aloft!

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You can make requests, but you can't guarantee that they'll be granted. On balance, nobody is likely to give you the benefit of the doubt. But, then, if they did, you'd have it too easy. The general planetary picture suggests that, if you rise to the challenge now, you'll be all the more successful.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Personal relationships are a minefield. Other people do require a certain amount of sympathy, but they also need putting straight, and this might be the most important thing you can do for them. Have faith in your own advice, for it's better than you think.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
There's no rest for the wicked today, I'm afraid. If you've taken on more than you can handle, then your responsibilities might start to divide and multiply, amoeba style. Can you hang on until tomorrow for help from partners? If you're smart, you may be able to deal with a familiar problem in a revolutionary manner.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Allow yourself a little more time for pleasure and self-indulgence. A cultural outing may suit, although really it doesn't matter what you do just as long as you enjoy it. Yet you're also in quite a serious mood, partly because you want only the best for partners.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Consider all domestic possibilities and please make plans for the coming months. If you think ahead, you'll be all the more prepared when the time eventually comes to make your move. And do be practical about your latest set of ideas, otherwise the chances will fade.

Rape survivor rammed autos, booked

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE 21-year-old student, who was allegedly raped by a choreographer in HSR Layout police station limits on Sunday, has been booked by the Adugodi traffic police for negligent driving and crashing the car into two auto-rickshaws on Saturday night, hours before the alleged rape.

Ajaz A, the auto driver who has filed a complaint, stated that the woman was driving her car recklessly after taking a U-turn and hit his parked auto-rickshaw. While taking a reverse, she hit another autorickshaw near Mangala junction on 80 feet road in Koramangala, around 11.45 pm on Saturday and sped away. "As we didn't see the car registration number, we chased the car till Forum Mall junction and it stopped at the signal. When we questioned them about the accident, the woman and a man exited the vehicle, leading to an argument with the auto drivers. As the situation escalated, a crowd gathered, and a Hoysala patrol vehicle also arrived. In the melee, the girl walked away, unnoticed by others," he said, adding that both auto-rickshaws had minor damages.

The police said that after the incident, they seized two auto-rickshaws and the car, and based on the complaint by the auto-rickshaw driver on Sunday, a case was registered against the survivor under Section 281 (rash driving or riding on a public way) of BNS and Sections 134(b), 187) of IMV Act. The police will issue the notice after the survivor recovers and check whether she has a valid driving licence and whether she was under the influence of alcohol. The offenses are bailable, an officer said.

Speaking to reporters on Tuesday, Bengaluru City Police Commissioner B Dayananda said the woman is currently recovering and that the police are awaiting her medical report.

Kolkata horror: Protesting doctors meet Tejasvi, discuss safety issues

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

REPRESENTATIVES from NIMHANS Resident Doctors' Association, who have been protesting against the rape and murder of a Kolkata doctor, met Bangalore South MP Tejasvi Surya on Tuesday, and appraised him about the safety issues confronting doctors.

The doctors on a protest at NIMHANS, who have suspended elective surgeries, said they suggested possible remedies to the MP that can be taken to prevent any such incidents in the future. The protest entered its ninth day on Tuesday.

"In the context of the demands of the resident doctors' associations not being adequately addressed, with whom we stand in solidarity in the wake of the heinous crime perpetrated at R G Kar Medical College and Hospital, Kolkata, we have decided to continue our protest, with the continues suspension of elective clinical services," said a release from the association. They added that the emergency services will continue uninterrupted.

Meanwhile, Karnataka Resident Doctors Association continued their protest at Freedom Park. Leader of Opposition in the Assembly R Ashoka, Tejasvi Surya and former DCM Dr CN Ashwath Narayan visited Freedom Park and expressed solidarity with the protesters. "The members have urged to increase the doctors' stipend and the annual fee. We will raise their demands with the state government," said Dr Ashwath Narayan.

'Task force will be set up to act on report'

REPRESENTATIVES from the Indian Medical Association, Private Hospitals and Nursing Homes Association - Karnataka (PHANA), Karnataka Private Medical Establishment and other organisations participated in the meeting. "Installation of CCTV cameras on the premises of hospitals, use of mobile application-based technology to improve security and latest technology to send emergency alerts, and installation of emergency panic buttons were some of the major suggestions received during the meeting," Rao said. The representatives insisted on police security in hospitals at night, police association with hospital security and fast-tracking of cases of attack on medical professionals, he said. "More than 50% of the staff in the medical field are women. If there is no safety and security, they may not be able to discharge their duties properly. We decided to set up the high-level committee to go through the suggestions received and submit a report within a month. A task force will be set up to implement the recommendations made in the report," he said. He said the Karnataka Medical Registration and Certain Other Law (Amendment) Act 2024 notified by the state government has many safety provisions for medical personnel. The Act will be strictly enforced in private and government hospitals. Rao said the committee will also go through the previous reports submitted to the government.

GUV MUST ACT AS REPRESENTATIVE OF PREZ, NOT CENTRE, SAYS SIDDU

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Tuesday defended his party leaders, including ministers, who launched a scathing attack on Karnataka Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot.

"They (Congress leaders) have spoken about what he (governor) has done. It is a constitutional post and we have respect for the governor. The governor should act as a representative of the President of India and not as a representative of the Union Government," he said. Siddaramaiah was responding to a question on BJP launching a protest against Congress leaders for allegedly abusing the Governor during the protest against his action to accord permission to prosecute the CM in the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) sites allocation case.

BJP is demanding action against Congress leaders, including ministers Zameer Ahmed Khan, Krishna Byregowda and Dinesh Gundu Rao, and MLC Ivan D'Souza for their remarks against the governor.

Defending his party leaders, Siddaramaiah said that the governor acted in a discriminatory manner in his case. "The governor issued the show-cause notice on the day he received the petition and also accorded permission for prosecution, while not taking any action on the request for prosecution in many other cases, including those involving Union minister HD Kumaraswamy and former ministers Murugesh Nirani, Shashikala Jolle and G Janardhan Reddy," Siddaramaiah said.

The Lokayukta police on November 23, 2023 wrote to the governor, seeking permission to prosecute Kumaraswamy in Sri Sai Venkateshwara Minerals mining case, but no action has been taken, he said. The Lokayukta police have again written to the governor seeking permission to prosecute Kumaraswamy, he said.

Kumaraswamy is facing allegations of granting a mining lease to the company for 550 acres in violation of laws when he was CM in 2007.

Earlier in the day, speaking at the Congress office in Bengaluru, Siddaramaiah said BJP is making false allegations against him because he is fighting against inequality and implementing guarantee schemes. He said BJP is against providing economic assistance to the poor, and the saffron party can never be with people from Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes and minorities.

BJP demands action against Congress netas for 'insulting' governor

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A day after Congress members staged protests across the state, BJP leaders on Tuesday appealed to DG&IGP Alok Mohan to register cases against Congress leaders and members for allegedly hurling casteist abuses against Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot, who belongs to Schedule Caste.

They appealed to the state police chief to arrest Congress MLC Ivan D'Souza, Ministers Zameer Ahmed Khan, Dinesh Gundurao and Krishna Byregowda under Goonda Act for threatening and abusing the governor.

A delegation of BJP leaders, led by MP and former deputy CM Govind Karjol and Council Opposition Leader Chalavadi Narayanaswamy, submitted a memorandum to Alok Kumar. In the memorandum, they alleged that Congress leaders used abusive language against the governor, hit his portrait with footwear and burnt his effigies, which amounts to insulting the Constitution, they said.

"The policemen present at the protest spots did not take any action against Congress workers and leaders who insulted the governor. The governor issued sanction to prosecute the chief minister as per law, but Congress leaders are indulging in personal attacks," the memorandum stated.

It said that as per Section 151 of Bharatiya Nyaya Samhita, anyone restraining or compelling the President of India or governor to exercise their lawful powers, it is punishable with imprisonment, which can extend up to seven years.

The memorandum stated that Congress leaders are issuing statements that could affect the law and order situation in the state. "Congress MLC Ivan D'Souza threatened saying that Congress members will barge into the governor's office like in Bangladesh, while Zameer Ahmed Khan said that if law and order gets affected, the governor would be held responsible. Krishna Byregowda and Dinesh Gundurao made casteist, abusive comments against the governor. They should be arrested. The police should stop their protests, otherwise, BJP will intensify its agitation and the police will be held responsible," they warned.

2007 MINING CASE

Lokayukta SIT seeks Guv's sanction to prosecute HDK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

The Special Investigation Team (SIT) of the Karnataka Lokayukta probing the illegal iron ore mining is said to have written to Karnataka Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot, seeking to accord sanction to prosecute Union Minister for Heavy Industries and Steel and former chief minister HD Kumaraswamy, in connection with a case in which he allegedly granted a mining lease to a company in 2007 when he was the chief minister.

It is learnt that the Special Investigation Team has written to the governor on Monday requesting him to accord sanction under Section 197 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and 19 of the Prevention of Corruption Act, so that they can proceed with submitting a chargesheet against the Janata Dal (Secular) leader.

The case is related to granting of a 550-acre mining lease to Sri Sai Venkateshwara Minerals in Sandur of the Ballari district and the JDS leader is accused of granting a lease to the company by flouting mining and mineral laws, during his first stint at the CM in October, 2007.

In November last year, the Lokayukta Special Investigation Team had written to Raj Bhavan seeking prosecution sanction and recently the governor had sought some additional details in the case.

Replying to the same, the Special Investigation Team shared the clarifications sought, seeking to accord sanction for prosecution on Monday, informed sources said.

This development comes close on the heels of Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot issuing prosecution sanction against Chief Minister Siddaramaiah in the alleged irregularities in site allotment by the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA).

SIDDARAMAIAH NOT AFRAID OF PROBE: DKS

RAMAKRISHNA BADSESHI @Kalaburagi

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah is not afraid of facing any inquiry into alleged irregularities in the allotment of sites by the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA), said Deputy CM DK Shivakumar here on Tuesday. "If that was the case, Siddaramaiah would not have ordered an inquiry," said Shivakumar, who is also the state Congress chief.

He was responding to a statement by former CM and BJP MP Jagadish Shettar, who questioned as to why the CM is afraid of facing an inquiry if he is innocent.

Shivakumar said that if people have any proof on the alleged irregularities in MUDA or against Siddaramaiah, they should approach the inquiry agencies probing the case.

He termed Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot's sanction to prosecute the CM "illegal" and "unconstitutional." "The CM and Congress have moved the Karnataka High Court. We respect the judiciary and believe that justice will prevail. We know that the CM has done nothing wrong and has not influenced MUDA to give alternative sites to his wife. It is clear that the governor's move is influenced by BJP and JDS. The entire Congress, state cabinet, and Congress high command are standing firmly with Siddaramaiah," he added.

The Centre is misusing the governor's office in all the states where NDA is not in power, he alleged. He claimed that Siddaramaiah will remain CM and Congress will be in power in Karnataka for 10 years.

On BJP leader CT Ravi's allegation that Congress leaders are criticising the governor because he is a Dalit, Shivakumar said the governor's post is constitutional which is above caste and creed. On Siddaramaiah's proposed visit to New Delhi, Shivakumar said the CM is going there to apprise the party high command of political developments in the state.

What if Siddu loses chair? Machinations begin in Cong

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah's failure to secure a stay in the High Court on Monday, despite senior counsel Abhishek Manu Singhvi representing him, raises the crucial question of his ability to continue in office if an FIR is filed against him.

In response to the development, wheels have started turning within Congress. Deputy Chief Minister and KPCC president DK Shivakumar met his one-time rival Satish Jarkiholi at a neutral location for a private 40-minute discussion later on Monday. The absence of aides during the meeting suggested a serious and direct exchange between the two leaders. Some in Congress said Satish is slated to take over as KPCC president sometime soon and the meeting was related to that.

The relationship between the two leaders had cooled off in the last few years, particularly after a controversial video involving Ramesh Jarkiholi, Satish's brother, surfaced. Ramesh recently commented that if Shivakumar becomes CM, the state would face significant challenges.

Monday's meeting between Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar and PWD Minister Satish Jarkiholi created a buzz in political circles

The meeting was to address and clarify these issues, it is speculated.

The fallout between the two was also over the control of Belgavi politics and cooperative banks. Some believe that the meeting aimed to resolve these and other contentious issues too, though they have been ironed out in the past.

Sources close to Satish said while the two leaders have met on many occasions earlier, the Tuesday meeting has garnered considerable attention. The circumstances are also noteworthy: Shivakumar's brother DK Suresh lost in the LS polls, while Satish Jarkiholi's daughter Priyanka won. Shivakumar's efforts to help Laxmi Hebbalkar's son, Mrinal, too failed. This meeting was far from casual and suggests important developments within Congress, sources added.

If the chief minister is changed, there is a list of potential candidates for the post, including All-India Congress Committee (AICC) president Mallikarjun Kharge and former party president G Parameshwara. But if Shivakumar wants to fulfil his ambition of becoming CM, Satish's support is crucial, as he is said to control several legislators, up to 15-20 MLAs from both Congress and BJP.

No change of guard in K'taka, Satish clears the air

BENGALURU: A day after the meeting between Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar and Public Works Department Minister Satish Jarkiholi created a buzz in political corridors, the latter on Tuesday said there is no question of change of guard in Karnataka. He said Siddaramaiah has the backing of the Congress high command in the MUDA case. "He (Siddaramaiah) has not been proven guilty. So, there is no question of replacing him. He will continue to be CM," Satish added. He said BJP will fail in its attempts to topple the Siddaramaiah government. "If BJP creates problems to destabilise the government in Karnataka, similar problems might be created by the Centre in Telangana too... The governor there could send a notice to the CM there," Satish claimed. He said similar tactics may be used to dethrone CMs in Congress-ruled states. "That is why the party high command has taken a firm decision of backing Siddaramaiah. We will not allow our CM to step down," he added. Satish said he met Shivakumar as the latter is the KPCC president. "We discussed politics and party affairs. The meeting was on the appointment of Congress presidents to Chikkodi, Belgaum Rural, and Belgaum Urban Assembly constituencies. There are many irrigation projects in my constituency (Yamakanmardi), which were also discussed." Hitting out at BJP, Satish said the party misuses power. "They are now targeting Siddaramaiah. There is a need to fight it legally and politically," he added. ENS

Lingayats in B'luru protest release of controversial Vachana Darshana

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

A protest erupted in Bengaluru on Tuesday over the release of the controversial book, Vachana Darshana. The book was launched around 6pm by RSS Sah Sarkaryavaha Mukhunda CR at Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan, along with Vice-Chancellor of Sanskrit University Mallepuram G Venkatesh.

However, earlier in the day, a large group of progressive Lingayats had assembled at Freedom Park to express their opposition to the book. The protesters, who came from various regions including Bengaluru city, Bengaluru Rural, Mandya, Mysuru, Nanjangud, Chamarajanagar, Chitradurga, Hosur, Vijayapura and Raichur, gathered at 11am and protested till about 3pm. They raised slogans and burnt the book cover as a symbolic gesture of their discontent. Omkar Chonde, president of Vishwaguru Basavana Anuyayigala Okkuta, criticised the authors and publishers of Vachana Darshana for allegedly misrepresenting Basavanna's teachings. Chonde challenged the authors, Ayodhya Publications and Prajna Pravahah Karnataka to debate with Lingayat scholars, and accused them of distorting original Vachana literature. He urged readers who are genuinely interested to consult volumes of Vachana literature published by the government.

Several prominent Lingayat organisations, including the Jagathika Lingayat Mahasabha, Rashtriya Basava Dal and Sharana Samskruti Rajshana Vedike, supported protests against the book which have been seen since about a fortnight, starting with Kalaburagi where more than 50 protesters were detained by police. Religious heads such as Pujya Shri Basavayogi Prabhugalu from Basava Kendra, Chikkamagaluru, and Pujya Shri Omkareshwar Swamiji from Mandya participated in the demonstration. Initially, the protesters planned to gather at the Basaveshwara statue near Basaveshwara Circle but were redirected to Freedom Park by police. They had held a protest in Kalaburagi about a fortnight ago, where about 50 protesters were detained by police, and in Davangere they had disrupted a stage function.

Curiously, former chief minister and BJP MP Basavaraj Bommai, a practising Lingayat, participated in the book release but chose not to say anything against the protesters.

CM: Electronics City will be named after Devaraj Urs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Tuesday announced that Bengaluru's Electronics City will be named after former chief minister of the state, Devaraj Urs.

Speaking at a function to mark the 109th birth anniversary of Devaraj Urs, Siddaramaiah said that in recognition of Urs' contribution to the growth of Karnataka, the state government will recommend to the Centre to honour him posthumously with Bharat Ratna.

Siddaramaiah said the state government had conducted the country's first caste census to understand various communities' economic and social conditions with a view to ensuring social justice.

Siddaramaiah further said that he will continue his fight for equality and social justice despite various political challenges.

Urs focused on providing education and economic opportunities to marginalised communities and on eliminating the caste system, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah said and lauded his efforts to uplift the poor and the downtrodden.

The CM said equality in society could be achieved by eliminating poverty and the caste system. Though unification happened in 1956, it was Urs who renamed the state as Karnataka in 1973. The year-long celebration in this regard will conclude with a grand event in November. A statue of Goddess Bhuvaneshwari will be unveiled at Vidhana Soudha on the occasion, Siddaramaiah said.

The Enforcement Directorate on Tuesday told the Supreme Court it will file its response to BRS leader K Kavitha's bail plea in a money laundering case linked to the alleged Delhi excise policy scam by August 22

KERALA GOVT FACES IRE FOR INACTION ON HEMA PANEL REPORT

UDF, BJP also target Cultural Affairs Minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@T'Puram

A DAY after the Hema Committee findings, revealing sexual harassment and presence of casting couch in the Malayalam film industry, were released, the Left government on Tuesday found itself under pressure for sitting on the report, which contained allegations of criminal offence, for nearly five years. Both Opposition UDF as well as the BJP targeted Cultural Affairs Minister Saji Cherian for his alleged inaction on the report.

On Tuesday, Leader of Opposition V D Satheesan urged the government to register a case based on the revelations, while state Congress president K Sudhakaran accused the LDF regime of sheltering perpetrators of criminal offences. A host of senior Congress leaders, including MP Shashi Tharoor and K Muraleedharan, too, questioned the government for sitting on the report for such a long time. Senior BJP leader V Muraleedharan demanded that Cherian step down.

However, Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan defended his government, saying some of the panel's recommendations had already been implemented. He also said contents of the report were not divulged on the specific request of the panel. On the Opposition's charges of not registering cases against those responsible, Pinarayi said stringent action will be taken if any woman who gave a statement before the committee, came forward with a complaint.

Meanwhile, a slew of prominent persons from socio-political and cultural spheres, including filmmaker Beena Paul, demanded concrete measures to address the issues of harassment in cinema. Senior CPM leader K K Shailaja termed the revelations shocking, and said the government will examine the report and take further action.

Mounting further pressure on the government, Left youth organisations DYFI and AIYF too urged the government to take action on the report. In a letter to the CM, AIYF state president N Arun and secretary T T Jismon said the report shows that women in the film industry go through unparalleled insecurity and hardships.

"The report says a miniscule percentage of individuals sexually exploit women in the industry. The report endorses complaints of ban against some directors, actors and technicians," they said in the letter, while urging the government to set up a special tribunal to address the issues.

HC notice to K'taka govt over Civil Service Board

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

EXPRESSING displeasure over inaction by the Karnataka government in constituting the Civil Service Board (CSB) to suggest the minimum tenure for civil servants to avoid frequent transfers, the Karnataka High Court on Tuesday issued a notice to the state government.

The division bench of Chief Justice NV Anjaria and Justice KV Aravind passed the order after hearing a PIL filed by Rishab Trakroo, a resident of Bengaluru.

The court said the prayer in the petition is premised purely on the directives issued by the Supreme Court in TSR Subramanian and other cases which were decided in 2013. The apex court inter alia directed all the state governments to constitute CSB with certain directions. Those directions were taken note by the HC division bench, while deciding a writ petition in 2021.

"However, the inaction on the part of the state government speaks for itself. The conduct of the authorities of the state in not implementing and acting upon the directions of the Supreme Court and the order of the division bench of this court is no less than contumacious and could partake the contempt of the directions of the apex court," the court observed.

The court said that it transpires from the record that a cabinet subcommittee was constituted and CSB was to be constituted. But subsequently, the proposal was shelved and no concrete action was taken, the court added, issuing the notice to the government. The government now has to reply invariably, it added.

Further hearing was adjourned to September 11.

ADDRESS OVERCROWDING IN SC, ST HOSTELS: K'TAKA HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Tuesday directed the state government to address on priority the issue of overcrowding in state-run hostels for scheduled caste and scheduled tribe students, and sought details on the steps taken to fill up vacant posts of wardens.

Hearing a sou motu public interest litigation registered in 2023 on the issue, a division bench of Chief Justice N V Anjaria and Justice K V Aravind orally observed that a "chaotic situation" was created in hostels.

Referring to the report submitted by the state government, the court pointed out that out of the total sanctioned strength of 1,890 posts of senior wardens, 548 were vacant, and out of 518 sanctioned junior warden posts, 53 were vacant.

Citing the number of students in various hostels as per the report, the court noted that more students were admitted than the actual capacity of the hostels. In a post-metric hostel in Sirsi of Uttara Kannada district, 151 students were admitted against the sanctioned strength of 50. In Koppal, 214 students were admitted, against the 75 sanctioned strength. The other two hostels in Koppal are not better since 250 students were admitted against the 100 sanctioned strength, the court pointed out.

Therefore, the state government should submit the details of the steps taken to fill up the vacant posts of wardens, and the measures to be taken to ensure that there is no overcrowding in hostels, the court said, adjourning the hearing to September 30.

2 tigers die after eating poisoned boar in Nilgiris

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Nilgiris

AN adult and sub adult tiger were found dead at the Sussex Estate in the Bitherkad forest range in Gudalur on Tuesday. Post mortem examination revealed they had consumed a wild boar that had been poisoned to death.

Sources in the forest department said staff spotted the carcass of the sub adult tiger in the pathway of the tea estate. The animal had external bleeding injuries.

As per National Tiger Conservation Authority guidelines, the staff perambulated the 500-metre radius area and found an adult tiger, believed to be the mother, dead in a swampy marsh.

The team also noticed the carcass of a wild boar within 200 metres. "The big cats had consumed a portion of the wild boar. During postmortem, veterinarians found wild boar flesh in their stomach. As per the statement given by veterinarians, both tigers may have died due to poisoning. This may have happened after the tigers ate poisoned wild boar. The bleeding injuries may have been caused when they fought over the prey," said Gudalur Forest Division DFO Venkatesh Prabhu

"The veterinarians also observed samples of rice and tapioca from the stomach of the tigers which may have been consumed by the wild boar," he added.

D Venkatesh, Field Director of Mudumalai Tiger Reserve (MTR), said "The sub adult tiger could have died on Monday evening, and adult on Tuesday morning. The colour of the internal organs has changed drastically, indicating poison. The tigers died one after another since they had taken secondary poison, that is from wild boar."

A case was registered, and two special teams have been formed to investigate.

"We will send samples collected from the tigers and wild boar for analysis to SACON, " an official said.

Bouncer arrested for road rage in Bengaluru

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A 26-year-old bouncer allegedly created a ruckus by damaging the windshield of a car on Sarjapura Main Road on Monday night. The Bellandur police have arrested the accused, Naveen Reddy, a resident of Bellandur, who was returning home from work.

The police said that around 10.30 pm, a family, including a toddler, was heading towards their residence, and the driver applied sudden brakes to turn left without using the indicator. Naveen riding his bike, hit the rear of the car and fell, while the car continued moving without stopping. Angered, Naveen chased and stopped the car and asked the driver to get out. As the driver refused, an argument broke out between them, following which Naveen broke the car's wiper and smashed the windshield with a stone.

Passersby alerted the police, who arrived at the scene and arrested Naveen, and charged him under Sections 126 (wrongful restraint), 324 (mischief), 351 (criminal intimidation), and 352 (intentional insult to provoke a breach of peace) of the BNS.

Push to revive tourism in landslide-hit Wayanad

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Kalpetta

RESIDENTS, traders and tourism stakeholders in Wayanad have joined forces on social media to revive the district's tourism sector that took a massive hit following the devastating landslides on July 30. Posts and reels tagged #VisitWayanad are doing the rounds online, in a bid to attract tourists.

Almost everyone who depends on tourism took a hit after all the centres under the District Tourism Promotion Council (DTPC) in Wayanad were closed following the calamity. This led to mass cancellation of bookings in several resorts and homestays during the Independence Day-August 15 holiday. Most resorts have zero bookings for August. This has hit autorickshaw-taxi drivers, tourist guides, small traders, shopkeepers and hotel operators hard.

Though spots such as Pookode lake, Karlad lake, Sultan Bathery Town Square, Wayanad Heritage Museum at Ambalavayal, Pazhassi Raja Landscape Museum in Pulpally, Karapuzha dam and Banasura dam are open now, the tourist footfall is meagre.

"We demand the intervention of the disaster management authority to soon reopen at least those tourist places that are safe," said Suresh P, a homestay owner in Padinjarathara.

Four of Ramji Nagar gang land in police net

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

FOUR criminals, including a receiver of the notorious Ramji Nagar gang from Tamil Nadu -- which targets posh areas to commit thefts -- were arrested by Indiranagar police. Seven laptops and other valuables worth Rs 5.5 lakh were recovered.

The accused are Murali (38), Senthil (50), Murthy (49) and John (35), the receiver, who knows about the stolen items and sells them. All the accused are natives of Tiruchirapalli district in Tamil Nadu, and would come to Bengaluru only to thieve.

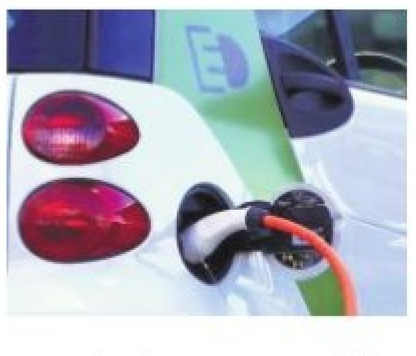
Police said the gang was being tracked, and based on a tip-off, a police team rushed to the spot before the crime could be committed. The five accused, armed with lethal weapons and carrying chilli powder, were covered by police. However, two others managed to escape.

After lengthy questioning, the accused revealed that they would keenly observe cars through the windshields for laptops, mobile phones and other valuables. Then they would break the windshields, steal the items and sell them to John.

Upon information about previous thefts on August 11, a police team rushed to Tamil Nadu and recovered stolen laptops, and nabbed John on August 15 near Attibele bus station. Police said the accused were involved in eight previous cases in the city and recovered seven laptops and other valuables worth Rs 5.85 lakh.

Used car batteries to store power at Bescom's EV charging station in KIA

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru



THE Energy department is setting up an electric vehicle charging station at Kempegowda International Airport for the use of cab aggregators and public. Bangalore Electricity Supply Corporation Limited (Bescom) will also be using second life car batteries to store power, in a first such initiative in the country.

The station is coming up in the existing 224KV power station space of Bescom. Located 1.5km from the airport parking zone, 24 vehicles can be charged at a time. Three fast charging points are also being set up.

"It will be set up in coordination with GIZ and Nunam companies. We are handpicking used car batteries. They will be utilised to store power. So far, the department is conducting indoor trials on storage of green hydrogen power. Now with the help of two private firms, solar power generated during the day will be stored in the batteries and then supplied to cars. Solar power panels are also being set up," a senior Bescom official told The New Indian Express.

The charging facility will be open 24/7 and will be launched in the first week of September.

The Bescom official said that in other cities, there is a surge in EV cabs, but not so much in Bengaluru where the thrust is on private vehicles, and most of them are two-wheelers. Citizens also prefer EVs, especially those coming from other cities. While the airport has an EV charging unit on the premises, it is only for airport vehicles. Similarly, there are two more charging points operated by private agencies for their fleet, but none for the public. The new one coming up will help citizens and other cab aggregators. Bescom's aim is to encourage EVs in public and private transport and there are plans for expansion in future, the official added.

Bengaluru leads in the number of EVs, and there are 4.80 lakh EVs in the state. As per the Bureau of Energy Efficiency Report released on August 19, Karnataka has 5,765 public EV charging stations, the highest number in the country, and Bengaluru alone has 4,462.

7 TN EB staff die in 20 days; questions arise on safety

R KIRUBAKARAN @Coimbatore

AT least seven Tangedco workers, including four wireman, had died of electrocution while attending to power failure complaints in the last 20 days across the state, bringing into focus the risky conditions under which they work and poor safety standards and compliance.

According to Tangedco staff union sources, victims Anand of Nilgiris, Aththiyappan of Kallakurichi, Selvaraj of Vazhapadi, and Samuthiram of Kadayanallu were wireman, while the other three —Dinesh and Naveen of Tiruppur district and Senthilkumar of Jayankondam — were gangmen.

While officials said rules regarding the mandatory use of 'safety app' and uploading of photos showing usage of safety gear at work are honoured more in breach than in compliance, workers blame the manpower shortage for rising fatal and nonfatal accidents in the department.

Wiremen and helpers play a vital role in fixing power failures, but a large number of their posts are vacant across TN.

India's first reusable hybrid rocket launch soon

SV KRISHNA CHAITANYA @Chennai

A REUSABLE hybrid rocket will be launched from Chennai shores on August 24, and place three CubeSats and 50 PICO satellites in the sub-orbit. The satellites will monitor and collect data on various atmospheric conditions.

Space Zone India, a Chennai-based start-up which manufactured the rocket, claimed this would be India's first reusable hybrid rocket that combines the advantages of both liquid and solid fuel propellent systems to improve efficiency and reduce operations costs. Named 'Mission Rhumi -2024', the project was guided by Mylswamy Annadurai, former ISRO director and Moon Man of India.

Anand Megalingam, CEO, Space Zone India, told TNIE that the launch will take place around 7am from TTDC Ground at Thiruvidandhai on East Coast Road. "It will be a mobile launch using a hydraulic launcher mounted on a truck. All the necessary approvals from the government agencies, including NOCs from the DG of civil aviation, Air Force Tambaram, and AAI have been obtained. Additionally, we have initiated the Notice to Airmen (NOTAM) process."

Explaining the advantages of hybrid rockets, Megalingam said, "Hybrid rockets use a separate oxidiser tank, which in this case is filled with semi cryogenic nitrous oxide at -80°C. This oxidiser is stored separately from the solid wax fuel until combustion, ensuring enhanced safety. The solid wax fuel, housed in a separate tank, combines with the oxidiser only during the combustion process. This separation significantly reduces the risk of accidental detonation, making hybrid rockets inherently safer than their fully solid or liquid counterparts."

On reusability, the official said the mission is environmentally sustainable as 70% of 80-kg rocket components can be retrieved and reused for future missions.

Close to 5,000 students, majority of them government students, were trained and provided hands-on experience on rocketry and satellite integration as part of this mission.

Mylswamy Annadurai said the technology is unique and such launches inculcate passion for rocketry among students. "For instance, the data retrieved from this mission can provide great insights for students studying atmospheric science."

The three cube satellites are designed to monitor and collect data on atmospheric conditions, including cosmic radiation intensity, UV radiation intensity, air quality, and more.

TAKE OPPORTUNITY TO CORRECT SYSTEMIC ISSUES IN MALAYALAM FILMDOM

THE sky is full of mysteries, with the twinkling stars and the beautiful moon. But scientific investigation revealed stars do not twinkle, nor does the moon look beautiful. Do not trust what you see; even salt looks like sugar." This is the memorable beginning to the Hema Committee's recently-released report on the issues faced by women in the Malayalam film industry. The lines reveal the darker side of Mollywood—systemic sexual harassment, a casting couch culture and deep-rooted gender inequalities. The report points fingers at an all-powerful 'boys' club' comprising directors, producers and actors who decide the fate of others in the industry.

The Hema Committee was formed in 2017 after the Women in Cinema Collective petitioned the Kerala government following an assault on a well-known actress. The panel was asked to study the issue of gender inequality in the industry and recommend measures for improvement. Though the committee had submitted its report four years ago, the state government did not make it public on the ground that Justice Hema had herself written to the government to hold it back for safeguarding the privacy of several industry players. Now that it's out after many information requests and legal battles, it has stirred a hornet's nest. That government's delay in releasing a report citing many instances of sexual offence is inexcusable. Though it could not take legal action against anyone on the basis of the report, as the allegations were not verified, the government should at least have investigated the charges. Equally condemnable is the guarded silence of powerful industry bodies such as the Association of Malayalam Movie Artists and Film Employees Federation of Kerala.

Now that the report is out, the state government should not waste time in acting upon its recommendations that include mandatory written contracts for all artists and technicians before starting a film project, internal complaint committees on all film sets, and establishing a tribunal with judicial powers to handle cases regarding sexual harassment, service conditions, breach of contract, and illegal ousting of individuals from projects. The recommendations, which aim to ensure a more equitable environment for all, must be considered with due diligence. The ongoing churn following the report's release is a golden opportunity to correct the systemic issues plaguing what is undoubtedly one of the most promising film industries in the country. We cannot let it go to waste.

IMPROVE BANK DEPOSITS BY LOWERING TAX ON FDs

THE debate whether bank deposits are growing at a robust pace or not needs to be resolved. At a meeting of state-owned banks on Monday, the finance minister once again emphasised the need to mobilise deposits through special drives and better outreach because there is a concern that deposits are growing slower than credit. A mid-year Reserve Bank report said that while bank credit had grown 13.7 percent, deposit growth was struggling at 10.6 percent. On the other hand, an SBI Research study claimed that flagging deposit growth was a 'statistical myth' as it has grown to a robust ₹61 lakh crore since 2021-22, ahead of credit growth of ₹59 lakh crore. In 2022-23, the banking sector registered the highest absolute growth in both deposits and credit since 1951-52, the SBI report said.

Where the rub is—and where the RBI and SBI studies seem to converge—is that there has been a decline in current and savings account (CASA) deposits in the total portfolio of deposits, down to 41 percent in 2023-24 compared to 43.5 percent the year before. This threatens the stability of the banking system as these CASA deposits are mainly being used for transactions like UPI payments. However, the CASA deposit decline has been more than made up by a rapid rise in term savings like fixed deposits, which have risen to 59 percent in 2023-24 from 56.5 percent the year before. This has been spurred by a steady rise in FD interest rates that are now touching 9.5 percent.

Significantly, 47 percent of the FD portfolio is from investments by senior citizens, while younger earners prefer the risky but better returns of the stock market or mutual funds. Senior citizens have traditionally preferred the higher safety and steady returns of bank term deposits, and that story has not changed. It is therefore ironic that the finance minister chose to reduce long-term capital gains tax on a slew of instruments including shares and mutual funds to 12.5 percent, while continuing to tax those who prefer the safer FDs at as much as 30 percent. This is just one instance on how the government is driving money to more risky instruments rather than into the banking system. The anomaly must be corrected by making bank deposits more attractive.

QUICK TAKE

NEIGHBOURLY HELP FOR ARAKAN

STRIFE in Myanmar's Arakan region has affected the rest of the subcontinent for half a millennium. The fight between Mughal armies from the northwest and the Arakanese from the southeast for Bengal's economic heart began in the 16th century. It intensified with the help of Portuguese pillagers, whose armadas gave rise to the pejorative term 'harmad' in Bengal. In the modern era, the Rohingyas displaced from the region have created refugee crises in Bangladesh and India. So India should heed the recent call for help from the region that is suffering from massive floods. Our strategic interest also lies in the Kaladan transit link that passes through Arakan.

There are similarities between the uprisings in Bangladesh and Sri Lanka. When economic distress is felt by the people, governments can't hide behind a phalanx of statistics

THE DISTRESS PUSHING REGION'S YOUTH TO REVOLT

K M CHANDRASEKHAR

Former Cabinet Secretary and author of As Good as My Word: A Memoir

MANDAR PARDIKAR

YEARS ago, when the government was going full tilt at implementing the Citizenship Amendment Act, which, together with the National Register of Citizens, threatened a communal conflict of massive dimensions, I had written: "Today, the issue, which is quite familiar to the ruling party, has spun out of control in Assam and all parts of the country, particularly in urban areas. The attempt to isolate Muslims in the category of illegal migrants has boomeranged. Riots, agitations, hartals and violence have rocked the country. This is not an agitation spearheaded by Muslims. It is a spontaneous outburst in which all communities are expressing their ire. There seems to be no indication that it is masterminded or led by any political party. Political leaders of other parties appear to follow the agitators."

The Bangladesh conflagration, which drove out the well-entrenched Awami League and the seemingly immovable Sheikh Hasina, brings to mind once again the power of the youth and its inability to stand injustice and unfairness, their strong resistance to untruth at the top, their unwillingness to accept a regime that they feel is tainted with corruption and is insensitive to the real problems of an impatient younger generation. It also highlights the fact that the generation gap between those who rule and the aspiring youth is widening day by day.

This is not confined to Bangladesh. In 2022, the Aragalaya movement in Sri Lanka saw the end of the Rajapaksa hegemony. The Bangladesh movement was very similar to the Sri Lankan one, except that an attempt was made initially by the Sheikh Hasina government to ruthlessly suppress it. Hundreds died, but the movement only grew in strength until the Bangladesh Army decided that enough was enough and the killing must stop.

In Sri Lanka, violence was lesser and the police were reluctant to turn on the protesters. Two emergencies were declared. The Rajapaksas also sought divine help. The personal shaman of President Gotabaya Rajapaksa was sent with bottles of charmed water to the protest site. At the same time, Mahinda Rajapaksa's visit to Anuradhapura to seek the blessings at the Maha Bodhi site was met with angry protests.

As in Bangladesh, in Sri Lanka the ruler's palace was raided and pillaged, and he had to flee to the Maldives. Likewise, Hasina's mansion Ganabhaban was ravaged by uncontrollable mobs, and she had to be rescued and flown to India by the military at a very short notice. Gotabaya was permitted to return to Sri Lanka, where he lives a non-political life in obscurity. Hasina is still in India; her future is uncertain. She is presently hated in her homeland, and there is loud clamour for her return and judicial trial.

Parallels have been drawn between the Bangladesh and Sri Lankan agitations by the agitators, too. Speaking on a Zoom call from Colombo, the Inter University Students' Federation leader Madhushan Chandrajith recently said, "We, too, have traversed a similar path. In 2022, the Sri Lankan populace ousted the tyrannical regime of Gotabaya Rajapaksa, a racist despot."

The Sri Lankan agitation came in the wake of a severe economic crisis. While Sri Lanka was weighed down by huge external debt, Bangladesh's debt level is around 40 percent of the GDP. Bangladesh has been leading India in per capita GDP for four years. The official unemployment rate in Bangladesh decreased to 4.20 percent in 2023 from 4.30 percent in 2022, but the youth unemployment remained high. In the global market for readymade garments, Bangladesh raced ahead of India after the removal of the European and American quota system.

Yet, the people, particularly the young, were dissatisfied and rose in revolt. The trigger is said to have been the introduction of a quota system for the children and grandchildren of Mukti Bahini soldiers who fought for freedom from Pakistan. Following resistance, this quota was given up in 2018, but Bangladesh's courts chose to reintroduce it in a diluted form. No wonder, following the revolt, the Chief Justice has also been forced to resign.

Perhaps the figures of prosperity—GDP per capita and a sound fiscal position—did not resonate with the actual field position as the youth perceived it. Government statistics probably camouflaged what Joan Robinson called "disguised unemployment" by including casual workers and half-employed agricultural labourers in the government employment statistics.

Sri Lanka and Bangladesh are not the only examples of popular upsurge against authoritarianism. The Arab Spring caused the "biggest transformation of the Middle East since decolonisation", as A Murad Agdemir put it in his 2016 book, The Arab Spring and Israel's Relations with Egypt. By the end of February 2012, long-established heads of state had lost power in Tunisia, Egypt, Libya and Yemen. Civil unrest broke out in Bahrain and Syria, and in Algeria, Iraq, Jordan, Kuwait, Morocco, Oman and Sudan. Minor protests occurred in Mauritania, Saudi Arabia, Djibouti, Western Sahara and Palestine. The end of powerful despots like Hosni Mubarak in Egypt and Muammar Gaddafi in Libya were expressions of people's power.

In 1976, South African students rose against the denial of proper education to black students. Armed police broke up the agitation, killing and maiming hundreds. June 16, the day on which the Soweto Uprising occurred, is now observed as the National Youth Day in South Africa.

Other examples of youth-led crusades include the environment movement fronted by Greta Thunberg and a women's rights movement spearheaded by Malala Yusafzai. The 2022 protests in Pakistan were against economic mismanagement, tyranny, corruption and poverty.

There is undoubtedly a churn among the global youth—a refusal to accept untruth and a willingness to rise and protest against injustice. Several factors can trigger such movements locally. Tyranny and injustice towards sections of society are probably the most dominant ones. And economic distress, particularly unemployment, can create an atmosphere conducive to such movements.

Such distress cannot be wished away by putting up GDP growth figures and other financial parameters. When pain is felt by the people in the lower rungs of the socio-economic pyramid, they will believe no government that tries to hide it behind a phalanx of statistics. Wisdom lies in understanding problems at the lowest level and working towards solving them within a democratic framework, rather than waiting for the volcano to erupt.

"Sometimes it takes a natural disaster to reveal a social disaster."

THAMIZHACHI THANGAPANDIAN

Member of Lok Sabha from South Chennai

I remember waking up to the news of the Wayanad disaster. A sense of shock and sadness engulfed me as the death toll kept rising. Hundreds died, thousands injured and misplaced, and a flourishing ecosystem was brought to ruins. The landslides underscored the devastating impact of natural disasters on our communities. As the people of Wayanad rise above this disaster, my heart goes to families of those deceased.

At times like this, it is crucial to move past party lines and come together to serve the people affected. This is not the time to play party politics. Yet, the Union government's decision not to declare it a national disaster has sparked a debate about political bias and the need for consistent disaster management policies. Similar unwillingness on part of the central government was observed on a request to declare the Tamil Nadu floods a national disaster, despite the significant scale of devastation. Disasters are times for empathy, but the Union government seems to be taking its share of electoral revenge over the affected people.

The loss of life and property in Wayanad is staggering. With more than 250 lives lost, thousands injured and entire villages cut off from essential supplies, the situation immediately calls for declaring it as a national disaster. This scale of calamity is unprecedented, with many deceased bodies still to be recovered and a number of bodies yet unidentified. The anguish of the people of Wayanad cannot be put into words. Despite Kerala's commendable efforts to manage the crisis, the scale of the disaster necessitates additional support from the central government.

Why is it important to declare it a national disaster? Such an official declaration unlocks vital resources and support. It provides substantial financial assistance from the National Disaster Response Fund , ensuring comprehensive relief and rehabilitation. It leads to the setting up of a calamity relief fund (CRF) with the corpus shared 3:1 between the Centre and the state. Shortfalls in the CRF are filled from the National Calamity Contingency Fund, which the Centre fully funds. Relief is also provided in repaying loans on concessional terms. This coordinated effort is crucial for efficient disaster management, ensuring that affected communities swiftly and comprehensively receive the help they need.

However, the Union government's hesitation to declare the Wayanad landslides a national disaster suggests a troubling politicisation of disaster management, where the severity of a disaster and the immediate needs of the affected population are overshadowed by political considerations.

EXPRESS

Despite the PM's assurance of help, the Centre has not declared the Wayanad landslides a national disaster. Such a declaration would unlock funds and support, and ensure speedy relief. We need a consistent national policy for disaster management that rises above petty party politics

Tamil Nadu has quickly ensured support to its neighbour. A team of 40 fire and rescue service personnel from Tamil Nadu is engaged in providing relief in the landslide-hit areas. The Tamil Nadu Disaster Response Force is also involved in the process, headed by two senior IAS officers. Further, Chief Minister MK Stalin announced immediate monetary support of ₹5 crore to the Kerala government. This readiness to aid those in need beyond party politics is a crucial step in model governance and a lesson for those in power at the Centre.

The prime minister and his delegation recently visited the disaster site and took cognisance of the matter along with the Kerala chief minister. In his statement later, the PM promised utmost support to the government of Kerala and the people of Wayanad. So the reluctance to declare it a national disaster is baffling. Leader of opposition Rahul Gandhi requested the Union government in parliament to declare this catastrophe a national disaster. Several House members have made similar submissions. Yet, there is silence.

Do the voices of the people of the south not matter? Does the Union government not believe that a disaster of such scale requires ample support? Does the BJP-led NDA government not believe in the welfare of the people irrespective of who they voted for? Would the Union government react the same way to a similar disaster in Gujarat or Uttar Pradesh?

Wayanad's plight is not just a regional issue. It is a national concern that demands decisive action. By ignoring its severity, the Union government not only fails the people of Kerala but also sets a dangerous precedent for future disaster management in other ecologically fragile regions. Within the realm of policy and debate, political actors often manipulate important issues by framing them in ways that align with certain political agendas. This polarisation reduces national issues to simplistic and trivial television talking points, overshadowing complex debates and comprehensive solutions, which has risen at an alarming rate.

The need for a uniform, unbiased approach to disaster management is more pressing than ever. It is imperative for civil society, media and political leaders to advocate for fair and consistent application of disaster management policies. Declaring the Wayanad landslides a national disaster is not just a procedural step; it is a necessary intervention to alleviate the suffering of thousands and to ensure a more prepared nation.

As we strive to rebuild Wayanad, let us push for a more equitable and efficient system that ensures comprehensive support for all disaster-affected regions across India. The future resilience of our nation depends on our ability to rise above political divides and work together in the face of natural calamities.

Support seniors

Many consider euthanasia a merciful death, sounding as if someone was at somebody's mercy to die. Should we call it a kindness if life support systems are turned off at the point of no return? Let an informed decision be taken by the elderly for painless and dignified death. The government thinks of many issues ahead of time. Why not think of the plight of more than 150 million people who have already contributed to the development of the nation?

Graceful exit

The article covered senior citizens with financial comfort. There are innumerable old people from poorer families where financial difficulty and old-age sicknesses are a double whammy. It is necessary for the government to think of euthanasia as a suffering mitigation so that senior citizens in prolonged illnesses may gracefully opt for this outlet.

At last, the Hema committee report came to the limelight. Why was the report kept in cold storage for a long time? It is a wonder such horrible things are happening in a state like Kerala. Night transport for women health workers

After Kolkata hosp horror, health ministry lists steps for all Central govt hospitals and institutions, including AIIMS

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

FEMALE health professionals will now be escorted to premises while on duty in all Central government hospitals and institutions, including the AIIMS (All India Institute of Medical Sciences), and get appropriately secured transport for their commute at night.

Also, more than one woman health professional will be deployed at night, and adequate lighting will be provided in the hospital premises, especially the duty areas used by female healthcare staff.

The Union Health Ministry issued a slew of directions to all the heads of the Central government hospitals and institutions, including AIIMS and the Institutes of National Importance (INI), in the wake of the brutal rape-murder of a 31-year-old woman trainee doctor in a state-run hospital in Kolkata on August 9.

The barbaric act triggered a nationwide protest by resident and junior doctors, who shunned work, demanding a Central law that ensures their protection and safety.

Directing these Central government hospitals to enhance security, especially for women doctors, who form a sizable number, the ministry, in a letter dated August 19, said they that should install CCTV cameras, employ adequate number of well-trained security guards, strictly monitor entry and exit of staff, patients, and visitors; and also train all hospital employees, including doctors, nurses and administrative personnel in recognising and responding to security threats.

Among the 12 directives issued, the ministry asked the hospitals to map dark spots on campus and ensure adequate lighting on the premises.

"An adequate number of well-secured duty rooms with basic amenities should be provided for female health professionals. Deployment of lady health professionals at night should preferably be done in more than one number. They should be escorted on premises while on duty, and proper arrangement of secured transport should be made for them for any movement at night," a letter, dated August 19, said.

"Ensuring the safety of healthcare professionals is vital. Violence or harassment against staff can disrupt operations and affect the quality of care provided to patients. Patient rush increases the potential for conflicts and security breaches. Addressing these concerns requires a comprehensive approach to security that balances accessibility with effective measures to protect patients, staff, and the integrity of the facility," the letter further read.

A control room should be set up in the Institute for quick response to an emergent situation. In the Control Room, one admin staff member should always be stationed along with security persons, it said.

SECURITY MEASURES

INSTALL CCTV CAMERAS | EMPLOY ADEQUATE NUMBER OF WELL-TRAINED SECURITY GUARDS | STRICTLY MONITOR ENTRY AND EXIT OF STAFF, PATIENTS AND VISITORS

- Strictly monitor entry and exit of staff, patients and visitors
- Train all hospital employees, including doctors, nurses and administrative personnel in recognising and responding to security threats
- Map dark spots on campus and ensure adequate lighting
- Provide adequate number of well-secured duty rooms with basic amenities for female health professionals
- Deployment of one lady health professional at night should preferably be done in more than one number
- Women health professionals should be escorted on premises while on duty, and secured transport arranged for them at night

Doctors firm on protest, say will wait for justice for RG Kar PG student

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

DESPITE the Supreme Court constituting a national task force to frame guidelines to ensure the safety of medical professionals on Tuesday, the resident doctors refused to end their protest over their demand for a Central Protection Act and justice for the trainee doctor, who was raped-murdered, in a state-run hospital in Kolkata.

The Indian Medical Association (IMA), the largest medical professional organisation, also said their protest for a Central Protection Act (CPA) will continue.

Welcoming the SC order, IMA National President, Dr R V Asokan, said it has come as a "great relief," but their protest will continue. "Two of our demands — security of medical professionals and ensuring safe and dignified resident conditions — have been accepted by the SC. However, we are demanding a policy issue that the Centre must respond to," he said.

One of the key resident doctors associations, FAIMA, was the first to announce that their strike would continue. "Our demand is to bring the same law again through ordinance. We had a meeting with our nearly 70 resident doctors' association pan-India, where we decided to continue our strike till the implementation of CPA," said Dr Rohan Krishnan, national chairman of FAIMA.

Dr Dhruv Chauhan, national council coordinator of the IMA-Junior Doctors Network, said they are continuing the nationwide strike. The United Doctors Front Association (UDFA) also said that in solidarity with the broader medical community, the nationwide strike, which has entered its ninth day, will continue.

> We are demanding a policy issue that the Central government must respond to. We will not give up on our demand at the national level and continue to protest till CPA is implemented
>
> Dr RV Asokan, IMA national president

Resolution

In an appeal to doctors, healthcare workers, and the public, the resident doctors of West Bengal Junior Doctors' Front, RG Kar MCH Chapter, said they will "continue to cease work resolutely until the Supreme Court delivers its verdict on Thursday."

Rahul campaign forced govt to roll back lateral entry, claims Kharge

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

AS the Centre took a U-turn on the lateral entry recruitment on Tuesday, Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge said that it was due to the campaign run by Rahul Gandhi, the Congress and the INDIA bloc parties.

In a post on X, Kharge said that the Congress party's fight for social justice for Dalits, tribals, backward and weaker sections has foiled the BJP's plans to snatch away reservation. "Long live the Constitution! Modi government's letter on lateral entry shows that only the power of the Constitution can defeat the arrogance of a dictatorial regime," he said, adding "But as long as the BJP-RSS are in power, it will keep adopting new tactics to snatch away reservation. We all have to be careful."

"Whether it is the long term capital gain/Indexation attack on the middle class in the budget, or referring the Waqf Bill to JPC, or putting the Broadcast Bill on the back-burner, the power of the people and the Opposition is saving the country from the Modi government," he said.

Responding to the development, Leader of Opposition in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi asserted that the Congress will protect the Constitution and the reservation system at all costs and foil the "conspiracies" of the BJP.

> Long live the Constitution! Modi government's letter on lateral entry shows that only the power of the Constitution can defeat the arrogance of a dictatorial regime
>
> Mallikarjun Kharge, Congress President

In a post on X, Gandhi said, "We will protect the Constitution and the reservation system at all costs. We will foil the BJP's conspiracies like that of 'lateral entry' at any cost. I am saying it again, by removing the 50% reservation cap, we will ensure social justice on the basis of caste census."

The government on Tuesday asked the UPSC to cancel the latest lateral entry recruitment, amid a row over reservation in the advertised posts.

Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav said it succumbed to the unity of the 'PDA'. Meanwhile, RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav alleged that "lateral entry" was aimed at filling up posts with those inclined towards the RSS, the ideological parent organisation of the BJP.

Modi meets Ibrahim, says India and Malaysia to trade in local currencies

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

INDIA and Malaysia can trade in local currencies. This was announced after Prime Minister Narendra Modi met Malaysian Prime Minister Anwar Ibrahim on Tuesday.

"Trade between India and Malaysia can now be settled in Indian rupee (INR) and Malaysian Ringgits (MYR). Last year, an investment worth $5 billion from Malaysia to India has been worked on. Today we have decided to elevate our partnership to a Comprehensive Strategic Partnership," said Modi.

Ibrahim is on his official first visit to India. However, he has visited India many times in his individual capacity. "I had come as a student leader when Indira Gandhi was the PM. India is an enigma," he said.

Ibrahim endorsed the trade in local currencies as he said it simplified the process of trade. "In the neighbourhood, there is an issue in Myanmar and though we haven't recognised the government, we want things to settle down, also in Bangladesh and we discussed this with PM Modi," Ibrahim told this newspaper.

Enhanced strategic partnership between India and Malaysia is completing a decade.

The two leaders discussed all areas of mutual cooperation extensively. Bilateral trade has increased and is likely to be on an ascendant. "We believe that there is still a lot of potential in economic cooperation. The bilateral trade and investment should be expanded. We should enhance our mutual cooperation in areas of new technology, such as semiconductors, Fintech, defence industry, AI and quantum. We have emphasized stepping up the review of the Comprehensive Economic Cooperation Agreement between the two sides,'' said PM Modi.

It has been decided to establish a 'digital council' and to create a start-up alliance for cooperation in digital technology. Work will also be done on connecting India's UPI and Malaysia's Paynet.

"We have also discussed new possibilities of mutual cooperation in the defence sector. We are also unanimous in the fight against terrorism and extremism," Modi said.

US-made M4 carbine assault rifles in J&K terrorists' hands a serious threat

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

SEVERAL operations carried out by the security forces against militants in the wake of recent terror strikes in the Jammu region, have led to recovery of lethal weapons, a majority of which were earlier used by the Taliban terrorists or were abandoned by American soldiers before leaving Afghanistan, officials said.

According to security officials, the patterns show that the arms are now being brought to Kashmir via Pakistan. These weapons include the deadly US-made M4 carbine assault rifles, which can fire 700-970 rounds of steel bullets in one minute and pierce the normal body of any vehicle, officials said.

The M4 carbine's effective firing range is 500-600 metres, with a maximum firing range of 3,600 metres.

The officials said after each anti-terror operation, they have been recovering M4 carbines. "The militants are mostly using either AK-47 rifles or M4 carbines. The first attack last month on army vehicles was fired from an M4 carbine," said an official, adding that the weapon fires steel bullets, which penetrate the steel sheet of thin-skinned vehicles (non-bulletproof vehicles) more easily than a copper bullet.

According to sources in the security establishment, the M4 carbine was first recovered in Jammu and Kashmir in 2017, when the security forces killed Talha Rashid Masood, the nephew of Jaish chief Masood Azhar, in Pulwama. In the recent times, the weapon has been used in terrorist attacks in Kathua, Reasi and Doda.

As per sources, intelligence reports point out that two big meetings were held in Pakistan Occupied Kashmir in the past few months. "One meeting was called by the commander of Lashkar-e-Taiba at Pak Army Camp Tejin in PoK and the other by Jaish-e-Mohammad leader Abdul Rauf. It was then decided to export the weapons as much as possible to Kashmir," an intelligence source said, adding that more than two dozen US-made M4 carbines were sent to Kashmir.

HC order asking girls to 'check sexual urges' nixed

SUCHITRA K MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday set aside the Calcutta High Court's verdict, which had acquitted a man in a sexual assault case and made "objectionable" observations advising adolescent girls to "control sexual urges." The top court has also issued guidelines for judges on how to write judgments in cases involving adolescents.

"We have set aside the judgment and restored the conviction under Section 376 (Rape) of the Indian Penal Code. We have specified how the judgment should be written. Therefore, all previous observations will be disregarded," said the two-judge bench comprising Justices Abhay S Oka and Ujjal Bhuyan.

The bench noted that the case should have been referred to the Juvenile Justice Board, as the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act has provisions to address a child's future until the age of 21.

While restoring the conviction of the man accused of sexual assault, the Supreme Court directed states to implement provisions from Section 19(6) of Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act (POCSO) Act alongside Sections 30 to 43 of the Juvenile Justice Act.

The court also constituted a committee of experts to assist children in making informed choices.

The bench had in May 2024 reserved its verdict after hearing the arguments and submissions from all sides.

The Calcutta High Court, in its verdict on October 18, had made controversial observations while acquitting a man previously convicted by a lower court for raping a minor girl with whom he had a "romantic affair."

While delivering its verdict, the Calcutta High Court had advised young girls and boys to control their sexual urges.

Following this, the Supreme Court took suo motu cognisance of the Calcutta High Court's verdict on December 7 of the previous year and decided to hear the case.

Instead of allowing passive euthanasia, the court said it will explore the possibility of shifting him to a government facility.

WB seeks stay on HC order stripping OBC status of castes

SUCHITRA K MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE West Bengal government sought an urgent hearing in the Supreme Court on Tuesday regarding its appeal against the Calcutta High Court's verdict that struck down the OBC status of several castes, primarily Muslim groups in the state.

This decision had enabled their reservation in public sector jobs and admissions to state-run educational institutions, the government said.

The Supreme Court has scheduled the hearing for August 27. Senior advocate Kapil Sibal, representing the state government, informed a bench comprising Chief Justice DY Chandrachud and Justices JB Pardiwala and Manoj Misra that the high court's verdict needed to be stayed urgently.

Delhi visit personal, didn't meet BJP leaders: Champai

After 3 days in national capital, he returns to his constituency Saraikela

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

4 MLAs accompanying Champai summoned

CM Hemant Soren summoned the four MLAs — Samir Mohanty, Ramdas Soren, Mangal Kalindi and Sanjeev Sardar, who were said to be accompanying Champai Soren to Delhi. After meeting, the MLAs said they've been asked to work with full force in their constituencies.

SUSPENSE continues over former Jharkhand Chief Minister Champai Soren's joining the BJP as he rejected media reports claiming that he had met senior BJP leaders in Delhi. After camping for three days in the capital, Soren returned to his constituency, Saraikela, via Kolkata on Wednesday evening.

Speculations that he might join the BJP grew stronger after he expressed his anguish in a social media post while in Delhi, stating that he was "humiliated and ridiculed" in the JMM. Champai further added that a new chapter of his life was about to start, and he has kept all options open for him.

He, however, wrote in his post that he had no intention of causing any damage to the organisation. "We can never even think of harming the party, which we have nurtured with our blood and sweat," the former CM said.

Speaking to mediapersons at the Delhi airport before leaving for Jharkhand, Soren said that he had not met any BJP leader as he was on a personal trip. "I did not meet anyone. I came here (Delhi) for some personal work," he said.

On speculation about joining the BJP, Champai said, "I cannot understand who is spreading all this."

Meanwhile, CM Hemant Soren summoned the four MLAs — Samir Mohanty, Ramdas Soren, Mangal Kalindi and Sanjeev Sardar — who were said to be accompanying Champai Soren to Delhi.

After meeting the CM at his residence in Ranchi, the MLAs said that they've been asked to work with full force in their constituencies ahead of the assembly elections.

"We were in the JMM; we are in the JMM and will remain in JMM," said Samir Mohanti.

Leader of Opposition in the Jharkhand Assembly Amar Kumar Bauri said that everything is in the public domain and will be able to speak if anything official comes.

Jat leader to lead Haryana BJP manifesto panel

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

THE BJP will flag off 'Sankalp Yatra Raths' that will travel across most Assembly constituencies in Haryana seeking suggestions from voters for the party manifesto. The party has appointed former state BJP president and Jat leader Om Prakash Dhankar as the chairman of the 14-member manifesto committee that will finalize the document within two weeks.

State party chief Mohan Lal Badoli appointed Dhankar the national secretary of the party and former state cabinet minister as the head of the manifesto committee.

Another prominent Jat leader and former MLA from Tosham assembly segment, Kiran Choudhry, is a member of the committee. She resigned as the MLA as she had recently left Congress and joined the BJP. Another Jat leader who is the former state finance minister, Captain Abhimanyu, is also a member of the committee.

Om Prakash Dhankar told this newspaper that information compiled by 'Sankalp Yatra Rath' along with feedback from social media will be analyzed in about two weeks before the manifesto is made.

On farmers, he said Haryana is the only state which is buying 24 crops on Minimum Support Price (MSP).

Rahul visits family of Dalit youth shot dead in Rae Bareli

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi on Tuesday arrived in his parliamentary constituency Rae Bareli to visit the family of a 22-year-old Dalit youth, who was shot dead in Pichhwaria village in Nasirabad, in the district nine days ago.

The incident took place after the deceased reportedly had an altercation with one Vishal Singh of the same village. The Congress MP spent around 10 minutes with the bereaved family and pledged his support in their fight for justice.

After meeting the victim's family, Gandhi accused the Superintendent of Police (SP) of shielding the main accused. "The SP is protecting the mastermind but we will not allow this to continue," said the Leader of opposition.

He said that he was told by the distraught mother that the younger brother of the deceased was a barber and he was being harassed by a group of people who refused to pay for their services every time they visited the shop. The situation escalated when Arjun confronted them and sought the payment leading to his murder.

"We will not step back until justice is served to the family," he said. "This is a clear-cut injustice and this needs to be rectified. What punishment is to be given is up to the court but I can put pressure and I will not step back," Rahul added.

Gandhi landed at Fursatganj airstrip in adjoining Amethi district around 1 pm and headed to Nasirabad village in Raebareli where the killing had happened. Arjun Pasi was shot dead on August 11 allegedly after an altercation with some locals.

The district police had registered a case against 12 individuals, including seven named suspects. Six of them have been arrested but the prime accused still remains at large.

4 Bangla nationals who entered Assam illegally pushed back: Himanta

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Guwahati

FOUR Bangladeshi nationals, who entered Assam illegally, were pushed back, Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma said. Md Abu Shaid, Asadul Islam and Md Sarwar (all from Rajshahi district of Bangladesh) were apprehended by the Assam police on Monday night.

"One of them entered India for the second time. He was carrying an Aadhaar card," Sarma said. "All three intended to travel to Chennai for labour work. They have since been pushed back to Bangladesh," he added.

The police said the three persons were nabbed soon after they had entered Assam's Karimganj district from Tripura. The fourth Bangladeshi national pushed back was identified as Lipi Akhtar from Dhaka. She had entered Assam through the Dhubri sector of the international border.

"Investigation revealed that Akhtar entered Indian territory in the early hours of August 18 at Sukchar, South Salmara district on foot, after multiple bus and boat rides spanning over 24 hours," Sarma said.

He said after taking shelter at a house in Sukchar, she proceeded to Dhubri by boat where she was intercepted. He added that a manhunt was underway to trace other accomplices.

Akhtar told the media that she, her husband and 15 other Bangladeshi nationals had left home for India.

"Two men, one from Bangladesh and another from Assam, helped us enter India. We had plans to work at a garment factory in Tamil Nadu and the two persons told us to pay them ₹20,000 each later," the Bangladeshi woman said. "We arrived at a sandbar after entering Assam but I soon got separated from the others. I don't know where they are now," she further said.

Dhubri Superintendent of Police Navin Singh said, "We are verifying her statement." Assam, Tripura, Mizoram and Meghalaya are the four northeastern states which share a border with Bangladesh.

Ajmer court sentences 6 convicts to life term in 32-yr-old sex scandal case

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

1992 SCANDAL CAME TO LIGHT

Chain of exploitation: A gang victimised over 100 girls. They were raped after blackmail

SORDID SAGA OF RAPE & BLACKMAIL

ALL WERE STUDENTS: The girls, aged between 11 and 20 years, studied in a famous private school in Ajmer

HOW IT CAME TO LIGHT: The accused gave photo reels to a lab for developing. Lab staff released nude photos into open market. 6 girls committed suicide

TRIAL & TRIBULATION

- 18 accused in the case, 4 have served sentence
- 4 others acquitted by HC. One committed suicide
- 2 were tried for raping a boy, one has served his sentence. Trial still going on against one.
- One absconding

SIX of the prime accused in the sordid Ajmer sex scandal that surfaced 32 years ago were given life imprisonment by a POCSO court on Tuesday.

Judge Ranjan Singh of the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) court in Ajmer has also slapped fines of ₹5 lakh each on the accused along with their life sentence. Seen as the country's worst sex scandal, the Ajmer case rocked Rajasthan in 1992. It involved the exploitation of over 100 school and college girls. Most of the victims, aged between 11 and 20, were trapped by a gang that lured them into affairs, then photographed them in compromising positions, and subsequently used the pictures to blackmail, rape and sexually exploit the victims.

The POCSO court (Number-2) identified the accused as Nafees Chishti (54), Naseem alias Tarzan (55), Salim Chishti (55), Iqbal Bhati (52), Sohil Ghani (53) and Syed Zameer Hussain (60). All the 6 convicts were present in the court when the sentence was delivered.

One of the accused, Iqbal Bhati, was brought to Ajmer from Delhi in an ambulance. At the time of the scandal, all culprits were aged between 20 and 28 years.

The sensational case had shaken Rajasthan in the early 1990s. Investigations revealed the accused had given photo reels to a lab for development. The lab staff leaked the pictures in the open market. Only a few people had the master prints but their copies started circulating in the city. Whoever got hold of these photos started blackmailing the girls. Six girls of the college committed suicide. Amid the public furore, the then BJP government led by Bhairon Singh Shekhawat handed over this case to the CID-CB. Out of the 18s accused, four have already served their sentence.

Four other accused have been acquitted by the High Court. One had committed suicide 30 years ago during the trial.

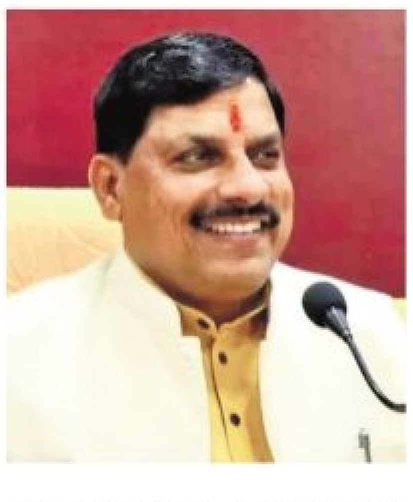
MP goes digital, becomes 1st state to notify rules for serving summons, warrants online

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhopal



MADHYA Pradesh has achieved a significant milestone by becoming the first state in India to formalize rules allowing the digital issuance of summons and warrants. This pioneering initiative permits the use of electronic methods such as email, messaging apps like WhatsApp, and text messages in its judicial processes.

The state's Home Department has introduced the "Madhya Pradesh Electronic Processes (Issuance, Service and Execution) Rules, 2024," which have been officially published in the Madhya Pradesh Gazette. This development, sanctioned under the country's new law, the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita (Indian Civil Security Code) 2023, aims to accelerate judicial procedures, fortify legal proceedings, and enhance the efficiency of the judicial system.

According to the gazette notification issued by the Home Department, these new rules apply when the concerned individual uses messaging apps such as WhatsApp or other digital communication methods like email or text messaging.

For individuals (accused, witnesses, or complainants) unfamiliar with digital communication services, summons and warrants will continue to be served in the conventional manner by the staff of the respective police station.

Under the new rules, if a summons or warrant is sent via email to a known electronic address and there is no bounce back or error message from the mail server, it will be considered as effectively served.

In cases where summons are served via other electronic means, such as messaging applications, the acknowledgment will be included in the service report, which must detail the mobile number, messaging application used, and a screenshot or photo confirming delivery.

The rules clearly stipulate that in case any process is issued in cases relating to offences under Sections 64 to 71 of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (45 of 2023) or offences against women or child, the officer-in-charge of the police station shall ensure that the identity of the victim is not revealed in any manner in course of service or execution.

Identity remains secret

The rules also specify that in cases that have offences under Sections 64 to 71 of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (45 of 2023), or offences against women or children, the police station's officer-in-charge must ensure the victim's identity remains confidential during its service and execution.

Tech-savvy U'khand forest dept taps AI to reduce chances of human-wildlife conflict

Increasing toll of attacks

This year up to August 19, 31 people have succumbed to wildlife attacks, with 149 more sustaining injuries. In 2023, 66 people died and 330 were injured in similar incidents. In 2022, 82 people lost their lives due to human-wildlife conflicts in. The trend underscores the need for effective measures.

NARENDRA SETHI @Dehradun

TO minimize human-wildlife conflict, the Uttarakhand Forest Department is leveraging both traditional methods and modern technology. For the first time, the forest department will receive alerts via Artificial Intelligence (AI) as soon as tigers, elephants, and leopards step out of the forest and move towards human settlements.

Corbett Tiger Reserve officials are thrilled with the encouraging results from a trial launched about 10 days ago, which used AI to track wildlife. If the experiment proves successful, the department plans to deploy the technology at other sensitive locations.

The forest department is now embracing technology alongside traditional methods. For the first time, AI is being utilized to enhance wildlife tracking and management. This innovative approach marks a significant step forward in the department's efforts to mitigate human-wildlife conflict and protect India's precious wildlife.

Principal chief conservator of forests (wildlife) Sameer Sinha told this newspaper that the department has initiated a project to track wildlife movement using AI technology and modern camera traps in areas bordering the forest. "Two new camera traps have been installed in Corbett Tiger Reserve," he said.

"Unlike traditional camera traps that required physical removal of memory chips to retrieve photos, the new setup enables real-time monitoring, thus enhancing our ability to respond promptly to human-wildlife conflicts," Sinha said.

"The newly acquired cameras boast extended battery life and memory capacity. Equipped with SIM cards and internet support, these cameras transmit photos via the internet after capture. However, their effectiveness will be limited to areas with internet connectivity," he said.

Corbett Tiger Reserve director Dr Saket Badola said the cameras will transmit photos to our server, where AI technology will identify the wildlife species and instantly send alerts. This will enable us to quickly notify villagers, reducing the likelihood of man-animal incidents."

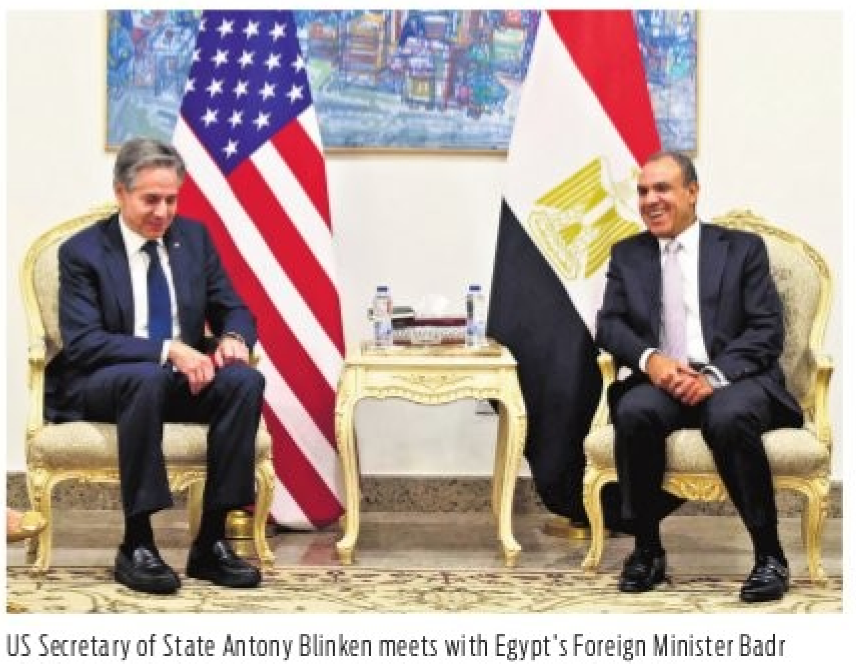
Biden accuses Hamas of backing away from ceasefire deal in Gaza

Outfit issues strong rebuttal, says his remarks are a greenlight for Israel to continue the war

CHICAGO/DOHA



US Secretary of State Antony Blinken meets with Egypt's Foreign Minister Badr Abdelatty in El-Alamein on Egypt's northern coast on Tuesday | AFP

US President Joe Biden said Tuesday that Hamas was "backing away" from a deal with Israel to agree on a ceasefire in the war in Gaza.

"It's still in play, but you can't predict," he said as he prepared to leave Chicago after a keynote address to the Democratic National Convention. "Israel says they can work it out... Hamas is now backing away."

Hamas condemned claims by US President Joe Biden that it was backing away from a Gaza truce deal, calling his remarks a "green light" for Israel to continue the war. The "misleading claims... do not reflect the true position of the movement, which is keen to reach a ceasefire" agreement, the Palestinian militant group said in a statement. It called Biden's remarks an "American green light for the Zionist extremist government to commit more crimes against defenceless civilians". The statement came as US Secretary of State Antony Blinken was in Egypt on Tuesday for talks on a Gaza ceasefire. Hamas said Biden's remarks reflect a clear "American bias" towards Israel and Washington's complicity in the "war of extermination against defenceless civilians in the Gaza Strip". The group said it is committed to a ceasefire framework outlined by Biden on May 31 which he said had been proposed by Israel.

It described the latest US modifications to that plan as "a coup against" the previous framework, accusing Washington of "acquiescing" to conditions set by Netanyahu.

"Netanyahu was always the one obstructing an agreement and setting new conditions and demands," Hamas said, calling on "the US administration to reverse its policy of blind bias towards the Zionist war criminals." It called on the "mediators to assume their responsibilities" and oblige Israel to accept the original proposal.

Meanwhile, the Israeli military said on Tuesday it retrieved the bodies of six hostages from a tunnel in Gaza's southern area of Khan Younis after a battle with Palestinian militants. The hostages were Yagev Buchshtab, Alexander Dancyg, Yoram Metzger, Nadav Popplewell, Chaim Perry, previously announced dead, and Avraham Munder, whose kibbutz of Nir Oz near Gaza announced his death earlier Tuesday.

Their families had been informed following intelligence analysis, the military said in a statement, later adding that the bodies were found on Monday night in a tunnel.

"During the operation, the forces located a tunnel shaft about 10 meters (yards) deep leading to an underground tunnel route where the bodies of the hostages were found," the military said. AFP

12 killed in Israeli strike on shelter

Gaza's civil defence agency said an Israeli strike on a school-turned-shelter killed at least 12 people on Tuesday, while the Israeli military said it struck a Hamas command centre. "Our crews retrieved 12 martyrs from the Mustafa Hafiz school, which was bombed by the Israeli occupation west of Gaza City," agency spokesman Mahmud Bassal said. Thousands of displaced Palestinians had sought refuge in the school, he said, amid the ongoing war.

Khaleda Zia party secy gen wants Hasina extradited

DHAKA

BANGLADESH Nationalist Party's Secretary-General Mirza Fakhrul Islam Alamgir on Tuesday asked India to extradite Sheikh Hasina to face trial as he accused her of plotting to thwart the country's student-led "revolution".

"It is our call to you that you should hand her over to the government of Bangladesh in a legal way. The people of this country have given the decision for her trial. Let her face that trial," Fakhrul was quoted as saying by the newspaper Daily Star. Talking to reporters after placing a wreath at the grave of former president and BNP (Bangladesh Nationalist Party) founder Zia-ur Rahman in the city, Fakhrul said India is seemingly not keeping its commitment towards democracy by providing shelter to her.

Fakhrul said fascist ousted prime minister Sheikh Hasina fled the country in the face of the student-led "revolution". "It is unfortunate that our neighbouring country has sheltered her. Staying there, Hasina has started a conspiracy to foil the victory of Bangladesh," he was quoted as saying by the state-run BSS news agency. India has said that it supports a democratic, stable, peaceful and progressive Bangladesh.

The BNP secretary general said the people of this country do not consider her offences as minor. He said they think her "fascist rule has weakened Bangladesh's independence and hindered the country's progress for the last 15 years". During her regime, she made a debt burden of Tk 18 lakh crores for the nation and nearly $100 billion were siphoned off from the country, Fakhrul said, adding that all institutions of the country were destroyed during her misrule.

Single-digit pay hike in IT new reality

Current salary spends and increments reflect sluggish performance, says a staffing company

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

LAST week when Nasdaq-listed Cognizant rolled out an increment to employees after a four-month delay, it had to face criticism on social media as wage hike starting as low as 1%.

Soon, the company in a statement said the merit increases for this cycle are tied to both individual performance and macro industry dynamics. As per sources, employees with the highest rating received only a 4.5% salary hike. Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) rolled out double-digit wage hikes for high performers and an average 4.5% to 7% wage hike for the rest of the employees, with effect from April 1.

Infosys' last wage hike was in November 2023. Its CFO Jayesh Sanghrajka said during the Q1 earnings conference that they take multiple factors into account (inflation, peer practice) in case of a wage hike.

"At this point we are evaluating all of that..we have improved our variable pay this year versus the last quarter and last year," he said.

These companies are announcing single-digit hikes due to various factors including inflation. "Tech sector's compensation spend and increments are linked to the revenue performance and outlook for revenue growth. The current compensation spends and increments reflect sluggish performance on these two parameters," said Krishna Gautam, business head, Direct Hire – IT, Xpheno, a specialist staffing company. As per Xpheno, the collective of top 7 IT services firms have seen 3.4% annual revenue growth in the quarter ending June 2024 as against June 2023. The collective has accordingly controlled compensation costs with 2.8% annual growth for the same period.

The compensation cost controls have been driven through headcount reductions and moderate hikes for performance and retention. The 12-month period ending June 2023 saw a 12.4% revenue growth with a compensation cost growth of 14.2%.

NITES approaches labour dept on Infy onboarding delay

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

THE Nascent Information Technology Employees Senate (NITES) on Tuesday said it has filed a formal complaint against Infosys to the Ministry of Labour and Employment over delay in onboarding freshers.

Harpreet Singh Saluja, President, NITES said the complaint is for the ongoing exploitation and unprofessional treatment of over 2,000 young engineering graduates who were selected for System Engineer (SE) and Digital Specialist Engineer (DSE) roles during the 2022-23 recruitment drive.

"These graduates, after being issued offer letters as early as April 2022, have been subjected to continuous delays in the onboarding process, unpaid pre-training programs, and unexpected additional assessments. Despite fulfilling all requirements on their part, these professionals have been kept in limbo for more than two years, causing immense frustration, anxiety, and uncertainty," he said.

During June quarter earnings conference, replying to onboarding of previous offers, Infosys had said that only a small portion would be pending and that the rest is done. In its complaint, NITES demanded that the ministry take immediate and strict action against Infosys to prevent further exploitation of these young professionals.

CHINA

HOLDS LENDING RATES, FOCUSES ON BANK STABILITY

The People's Bank of China (PBOC), after unexpected cuts in July, left the one-year and five-year loan prime rates (LPR) unchanged. The PBOC has left its one-year and five-year LPR lending rates unchanged at 3.35% and 3.85%, respectively, after cutting them to new record lows last month. The one-year LPR serves as a benchmark rate for business and household loans, while the five-year LPR is the rate used for mortgages. The decisions reflect a balancing act by China, after PBOC Governor Pan Gongsheng said last week that authorities will avoid adopting "drastic" measures despite their determination to achieve Beijing's growth targets for this year. Commercial lenders lowered the LPRs last month by 10 basis points each after the central bank trimmed a key short-term policy rate for the first time in almost a year.

JAPAN

STRUCTURAL CHANGES IN JOB MARKET

The dwindling working-age population in Japan is leading to structural changes in labour market that are heightening pressure on firms to hike wages and services prices, the Bank of Japan said in two research papers released on Tuesday. BOJ said broadening inflationary pressures warrant raising interest rates steadily from current near-zero levels. Permanent workers' pay remained stagnant even as labour shortages intensified since the mid-2010s, as female and elderly workers filled the gap by taking on low-paid, part-time jobs. The trend is changing as a dwindling pool of female and elderly workers, rising job hoppers and a rise in pay for part-time jobs prod firms to hike permanent workers' pay, the BOJ said. The paper said labour shortages are triggering changes in companies' wage-setting behaviour.

THAILAND

ECONOMIC GROWTH RISES IN Q2 ON TOURISM, CONSUMPTION

The economy of Thailand expanded in the second quarter on the back of stronger consumption, tourism, and exports. The National Economic and Social Development Council (NEDC) data showed gross domestic product during April-June rose 2.3% against the same time last year as against an upwardly revised 1.6% in Q1. The growth was driven by improved government consumption, export of goods and services, as well as private consumption, while public and private investments fell, the NEDC said. On a quarterly basis, GDP grew a seasonally adjusted 0.8% in Q2, slower than an upwardly revised 1.2% expansion in the previous three months. The central bank left its key interest rate unchanged at a decade-high of 2.5% for a fourth straight meet in June, and may hold the rate again at its meeting on August 21.

Amid volatility, large, mid-cap funds to see more inflows

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AMID growing volatility in the domestic equity market, large and mid-cap funds are likely to be a big draw among investors in the coming days, anticipates ICRA Analytics. It stated that the possibility of having a diversified portfolio coupled with good returns is attracting investors to such funds.

The global equity market, including India, is witnessing heightened volatility at peak levels following escalating geopolitical risks and global uncertainty. There are concerns about the valuation of equities listed in India, especially in the mid and small-cap segments.

Large and mid-cap funds have seen over five-fold growth in assets under management over last five years at ₹2.57 lakh crore in July 2024, as against ₹0.50 lakh crore in July 2019. The compound annualised returns on large and mid-cap funds are 44.07% for 1-year, 21.85% for 3-years, 23.67% for 5-years and 16.40% for 7-year period.

"Escalating geopolitical risks, worries over heightened valuations and uncertainty as to how the global interest rate cycle pans out in the coming months are some of the factors that may result in market volatility," said Ashwini Kumar, Senior Vice-President and head market data, ICRA Analytics. Large and mid-cap funds may be a good investment choice if these funds have exposure to companies that have comparatively strong balance sheets, established businesses and stable earnings growth which can offer the much-needed stability."

Net flows into large and mid-cap funds have increased by 276% at ₹2,622.29 crore in July 2024, as against ₹697.13 crore in July 2019.

Reliance-Disney merger: CCI raises concern over cricket broadcast rights

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Competition Commission of India (CCI) is said to have raised preliminary concerns that the $8.5 billion merger of Reliance and Walt Disney media assets might harm competition due to their power over cricket broadcast rights.

As per a report, the CCI has privately told billionaire Mukesh Ambani's Reliance and Disney its view and asked the companies to explain why an investigation shouldn't be ordered.

The report stated that rights worth billions of dollars for the broadcast of cricket would be vested with the merged entity, which could potentially peril fair pricing power and control over advertisers.

The CCI earlier privately asked Reliance and Disney about 100 questions related to the merger. The companies reportedly told the antitrust body they are willing to sell about 10 television channels to assuage concerns about market power to get an early approval.

CCI is reported to have given a 30-day timeframe to the two companies to respond and explain their position.

Reliance Industries Limited (RIL) and US-based entertainment giant Walt Disney in February had announced forming a joint venture (JV) that will combine the businesses of Viacom18 and Star India to create an $8.5 billion media behemoth whose reach in the broadcasting as well as streaming platform will be among the largest in the country. The transaction, which will create an entity merged with 120 TV channels and two streaming platforms, is expected to be completed in the last quarter of CY24 or the first quarter of CY25. Antitrust experts had earlier warned that the merger process would attract intense scrutiny due to its expected size and reach in the industry.

IVF clinics, hotels may face I-T crackdown

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

THE Income Tax Department is planning a crackdown on IVF clinics, luxury retailers, hotels and medical colleges for non-reporting or under-reporting high cash transactions. The Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT) has identified transactions in these sectors as sources of 'widespread circumvention of reporting requirements for cash transactions over ₹2 lakh'.

In its Central Action Plan (CAP) for 2024-25, the department has noted that despite the need for PAN in specific transactions, there is no current mechanism to ensure compliance. Therefore, it has proposed a verification process to examine high-value consumption expenditures and ensure accurate reporting. Cash transactions over ₹2 lakhs must be reported via SFT-013, but circumvention of these rules is common, notes the department.

The CBDT directs the Directorate of System and the Directorate of Intelligence & Criminal Investigation to identify authorities that are not validating PANs during transactions by September 30, 2024. "They should assist these authorities in achieving 100% PAN validation by March 31, 2025," says CBDT in action plan for FY25.

"The tax department is tapping the areas where the chances of non-compliances are higher considering the high-value transactions. In the coming days, sectors such as hotels and hospitals can see heightened scrutiny. Individual taxpayers need to be vigilant about non-alignment of their expenditure patterns and income disclosure in tax return," says Amit Maheshwari, Tax Partner, AKM Global, a tax and consulting firm. The department has set a target of 10% increase in new taxpayers for the current financial year. This target is slightly lower than the 11.9% achieved in 2023-24 but higher than the previous years.

In its efforts to widen tax base, the Central Action Plan emphasises on new taxpayer identification arising from data mining and analytics by various departments. "Effective use of this data helps identify non-filers and discrepancies in ITRs through e-verification. Local intelligence and inputs from market associations, along with outreach programmes, can aid in expanding taxpayer base and encouraging voluntary compliance," says the action plan.

India Inc's capital expenditure likely to be $45-50 billion in 2 yrs: Moody's

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIAN companies are expected to invest $45-50 billion annually over the next 1-2 years to enhance vertical integration and meet their net zero targets, according to Moody's Ratings.

The report highlights that the oil and gas sector, led by Reliance Industries, will account for over 60% of the total spending by rated Indian companies during this period.

Moody's notes that Indian companies are relatively shielded from external shocks due to the country's large domestic market. The ratings agency predicts that domestic demand will be the primary driver of India's growth, underscoring the importance of internal market dynamics in shaping the country's economic trajectory. The large proportion of domestic consumption in India has and will continue to insulate the rated companies from external shocks. Additionally, sustained government spending on infrastructure will stimulate business activities across key industrial sectors, particularly steel and cement, as urbanization accelerates.

Government-led large infrastructure spending will bolster steel and cement consumption, with demand growing at a CAGR of 7% and 5%, respectively, through 2030. The repot noted that earnings at Tata Steel, JSW Steel, and Ultratech Cement will increase as they boost production to meet growing domestic demand, collectively accounting for about 12% of total EBITDA of rated Indian companies over the next two years.

Indian oil and gas sector will continue to account for about a quarter of the total portfolio EBITDA over the next two years, with energy consumption increasing in line with economic growth. This will support earnings for state-owned refining and marketing companies, including Indian Oil Corporation Ltd, Bharat Petroleum Corporation Limited, and Hindustan Petroleum Corporation Ltd. The seven rated oil and gas companies in India will account for nearly 30% of rated

Indian companies' capex, spending of about $15 billion annually to expand existing capacity and make green energy investments.

Sebi moots rights issue as preferred fundraising mode

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

CAPITAL market regulator Sebi has issued a consultation paper on expediting the process of a rights issue recommending making the rights issue as the preferred mode of fund raising.

The consultation paper, released Tuesday, also seeking stakeholder comments on the proposals contained in the paper, which also proposes a flexibility of allotment to selective investors applying to the rights issue.

Citing its own data in the paper, Sebi notes that among the various modes of fund-raise, the rights issue did the lowest fund raising in FY24, mopping just ₹15,110 crore.

As against this, QIPs mopped up ₹68,972 crore, and ₹45,155 crore came in through preferential allotment of shares. Compared to preferential issue, the number of rights issues too were substantially fewer.

To ramp up the share of rights issue in the overall pie of fund raising, Sebi held consultations with stakeholders in July and recommended a bunch of proposals.

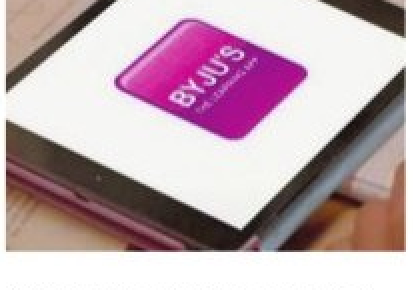
Among the other key proposals are: doing away with the requirement of filing draft letter of offer with the Sebi; rationalising the content of letter of offer by reducing current disclosures to contain information such as object of the issue, price, record date, entitlement ratio, etc; reviewing the role of intermediaries involved in the process; reducing the timelines involved in rights issue process; and enabling allotment to selective investors in rights issue.

Salaries will be paid promptly: Byju to employees

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

EDTECH firm Byju's, which has been grappling with multiple legal cases, has once again delayed paying salaries to its employees.

Founder and CEO Byju Raveendran in an email to employees said, "When we regain control, your salaries will be paid promptly, even if that means raising more personal debt. This isn't just a promise - it's a commitment. We have investors ready to back our turnaround story. They see what I see - enormous potential and inevitable growth."



Explaining to his employees the current struggles that the company is facing, Raveendran said, "Your salary for July 2024 has not been credited yet. I understand how crucial this is, and I want to explain the situation clearly. Our company recently faced a serious challenge that pushed us into insolvency due to a dispute with the BCCI. We settled the case and were on the brink of regaining control of our finances after the NCLAT ruled in our favour."

"However, the foreign distress lenders have been litigating against us and appealed this ruling in the Hon'ble Supreme Court. The apex court has issued a temporary stay on the NCLAT's decision, which means the control of the company's accounts has not yet been restored to us. Hence, founders are unable to infuse more capital to pay salaries like we have always done over the past many months."

Raveendran also said over the past 29 months, TLPL's (Think & Learn Pvt Ltd , Byju's parent) only source of capital was the founders. Founders together have infused nearly ₹7,500 crore in the company for various operational needs.

Out of the ₹3,976 crore disbursed as salaries to the team over the past two years, Rs 1600 crore was infused by Riju Raveendran (Byju's brother) personally.

Not all citizens travelling abroad need income tax clearance certificate, CBDT clarifies

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

IN view of growing misinformation regarding the requirement for Indian citizens to obtain an income-tax clearance certificate (ITCC) before leaving the country, the Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT) on Tuesday issued a statement clarifying the conditions under which such certificate is necessary.

As per the tax department, the recent amendment : Section 230(1A) of the Income Tax Act, introduced via Finance (No. 2) Act, 2024, doesn't mandate all Indian citizens to secure an ITCC prior to international travel. "Only certain persons, in respect of whom circumstances exist which make it necessary to obtain an ITCC, are required to obtain the certificate. This position has been in the statute since 2003 and remains unchanged even with the amendments vide Finance (No. 2) Act, 2024," finance ministry said.

ITCC needed in cases:

When a person is involved in financial irregularities and their presence is deemed necessary for probe under Income-tax or wealth-tax Acts, where a tax demand is likely to be raised.

When an individual has outstanding direct tax arrears exceeding ₹10 lakh that have not been stayed by authority. Issuance of an ITCC is not arbitrary; it can only be requested after thorough documentation of reasons and with prior approval from Principal Chief Commissioner of Income-tax or Chief commissioner of Income-tax.

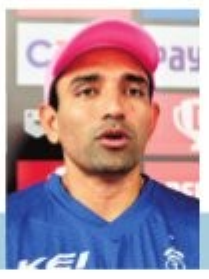
Living in denial won't help: Uthappa on depression



Following the untimely death of ex-England batter Graham Thorpe, who committed suicide, former India batter Robin Uthappa recalled the darkest days of his life between 2009 and 2011 when he contemplated suicide. "Living in denial won't help. If we live in denial then it's going to be very hard to pull yourself out of that hole," Uthappa said on his YouTube channel.

At a felicitation function to celebrate her Paris medals, Bhaker stresses on importance of confidence & embracing one's culture

MANU'S WORDS OF WISDOM

ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

PRESSURE is a word that's oft-spoken about in the world of sport. Having handled high-pressure situations on numerous occasions, Manu Bhaker is someone who is well-acquainted to provide a thesis on it.

She was thrown a different form of pressure on Tuesday. A young student, at a function in the city, made her an innocent request, asking her to sing. Manu was stumped for a second but dealt with it with utmost grace. After mulling for a moment, she sang Dekhha Tenu (by Jaani and Mohammad Faiz) to draw the loudest cheer from the people who were there to witness that rare sight. Such is her life at the moment. It's all about happy tunes and happy dances. Her world is brimming with adulation from all quarters after her historic medal haul at the recent Paris Olympics. One can only imagine the festive spirit accompanying her as people (near and far), recognising her talent, try to be part of her narrative.

That was visible on Tuesday here during a felicitation function at the Velammal Nexus School. It was clear that the students and teachers were looking forward to the mammoth occasion — an occasion the school hoped would trigger their own to follow Manu's path in the 2032 edition of the Olympics. The camera persons/photographers who had turned up in large numbers had marked their stations with hopes of capturing one of India's current heroes.

The deafening beats from the drums at the entrance of the venue signalled her highly-anticipated arrival. With a warm smile, Manu seemed happy to get the attention and was even sporting enough to dance later on. Among many things, Manu, who won two bronze medals in Paris, stressed on the importance of aiming high. "Start from dreaming big. You have to dream big to achieve something big." Manu's talents have been evident ever since her junior days (she's one of the success stories of the Indian shooting's junior programme). Even at the senior level, she had maintained high standards. However, she has had her share of setbacks (both on and off the field).

"No matter what happens in a competition (win or lose), I'll always hold myself high. I will always hold myself together and be confident," she noted.

Manu Bhaker being felicitated at a funtion in Chennai on Tuesday | P JAWAHAR

"Sports life is a beautiful life. I have had eight and a half years in my career so far. I have travelled almost half of the world. I have seen different kinds of people — their cultures, their backgrounds and struggles."

The youngster, 22, also voiced about the significance of embracing one's culture. "One thing that I have observed is that we tend to lack confidence. We should never be ashamed of where we come from — the cultural background. "I never knew English, how to talk to people, and many other things I never knew. But, I taught myself. You should carry it (culture) with pride, and you should be proud of yourself, how far you have come, and you have a long way to go." Her mother Sumedha Bhaker, who was also present during the occasion, is one of the forces behind her rise. That's a well-documented story. Manu also stressed about the value of being original and following one's own path and also about legendary sprinter Usain Bolt's influence on her. "She (mother) made me the way I am today. Try to be confident. Do not try to be like somebody else. Each person has their own value. Take inspiration from people. For example, I was reading Usain Bolt's book and I was able to connect with him in many ways. You can always take inspiration from different people but follow your own path."

If any of the students apply Manu's wisdom, they could surely go a long way.

DIDN'T LIVE UP TO MY EXPECTATIONS: SRIHARI

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

IN the weeks leading up to the Paris Games, Srihari Nataraj was very pleased with himself. His mind and body had been in sync and he had just completed a very good training block. So much that he expected to do 'something big at the Olympics'. However, that wasn't what had transpired. In an interview, Nataraj, one of India's best swimmers in recent times, says he 'couldn't live up to my own expectations or training. Excerpts:

● On his Olympics

I trained really well. I definitely expected to do something big at the Olympics but my performances didn't live up to my own expectations or my training. It's what it is. Obviously, a lot of people were talking about the pool and the conditions not being okay. But I don't know... I have swam in worse pools in India. At the end of the day, that is the result I came back home with. I think I swam well, just that the results didn't show.

● On the reasons why it didn't show

Based on how I looked in the race, how I executed... it was according to the plan. There were no reasons for me to have swam the times that I swam. Only explanation... I don't want to use it as an excuse but people did say that the pool is slow and it's a little shallower than usual and there were waves. But like I said, I have swam in worse pools in India and I have swam well. Sometimes, it doesn't click.

● On the broader perspective of the sport and India needing to rely on universality quotas

I have been in the circuit for a long time. I have seen a lot of swimmers come and go. I can't be the one who complains about genetics because I'm 6'3". I have the genetics to be up there. There's no one clear answer as to why it's been like this... as to why we haven't seen the progress that we should be seeing. We have tried... there has been an increase in support in the last few years, the exposure has increased in terms of tournaments, high performance and sports science. I train in a good academy with Nihar (coach Nihar Ameen) sir and am backed by a good programme. My personal opinion, there's a lack of coaches and the knowledge that the coaches have. I think the system can be worked around a bit. We can be swimming in more tournaments in the country. But the way people approach tournament needs to be re-evaluated. There are coaches who expect national records. Because of that, swimmers' development takes a back seat. But I do know that the federation is doing a lot, they have started with ranking tournaments. Juniors have Khelo India, seniors have university. It's about figuring out what works.

● On any plans of going abroad and settling to work on his career

We have been talking to Dr. G, who's part of the US Olympic team (Genadijus Sokolovas). Personally speaking, this has not been a good year for me. I have been training well but not executive it in the race. Just need to figure out why it's not happening. As of now, I'm part of TOPS. If I have the right funding, it's something we could discuss with the coach. But I haven't bought it up yet. We have a lot going on here. In touch with a lot of foreign experts.

Women's T20 WC moved to UAE

KALYANI MANGALE @Chennai

AFTER much anticipation regarding the change of venue considering the recent political situation in Bangladesh, ICC confirmed Tuesday that the Women's T20 World Cup 2024 has been shifted to United Arab Emirates. The ninth edition of the marquee event will go on from October 3 to 20 across the two venues in the UAE – Dubai and Sharjah.

Following the large-scale anti-government protests in Bangladesh, which led to former Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina fleeing the country earlier this month, many countries have announced travel advisories suggesting their citizens not to travel. This includes the likes of the United Kingdom (England and Scotland), New Zealand and Australia, who have advised their citizens to avoid travelling to the country for now. ICC Chief Executive Geoff Allardice informed that the Bangladesh Cricket Board made all efforts to make sure the event stays on their home soil. "It is a shame not to be hosting the Women's T20 World Cup in Bangladesh as we know the BCB would have staged a memorable event," Allardice said in a statement. "I would like to thank the team at the BCB for exploring all avenues to try and enable the event to be hosted in Bangladesh, but travel advisories from the governments of a number of the participating teams meant that wasn't feasible," he added.

With this, UAE, which hosted the 2021 ICC Men's T20 World Cup after the COVID-19 Pandemic, would get the opportunity to host the women's World Cup for the first time. While, Sri Lanka, which recently hosted the Women's Asia Cup and Zimbabwe had offered to step in, the governing body opted to go with UAE. Earlier BCCI Secretary Jay Shah had informed that India would not be interested in hosting the T20 tournament. "I'd also like to thank the Emirates Cricket Board for stepping in to host on behalf of the BCB and Sri Lanka and Zimbabwe for their generous offers of support, and we look forward to seeing ICC global events in both of those countries in 2026," Allardice further mentioned.

Record-breaker

Samoa batter Darius Visser has broken the men's T20I record for most runs in an over, as he smashed 39 runs off Vanuatu's Nalin Nipiko in the T20 World Cup EAP Region Qualifier on Tuesday. A look at the world record and the past ones...

VISSER 39 VS NIPIKO | SAMOA VS VANUATU, AUGUST 2024

At 77/5, Samoa were not in a good place. Visser, on 46 from 34 balls, hit three consecutive sixes off Nipiko in the 15th over. Rattled by the onslaught, he started bowling no balls, three of them in fact, conceding three more sixes in the over. A new world record, surpassing something that has been there for 17 years.

ROHIT SHARMA-RINKU SINGH 36 VS KARIM JANAT | INDIA VS AFGHANISTAN, JAN 2024

When Rinku walked in to bat, India were 22/4 in the powerplay. But then, Rinku and Rohit rebuilt. Rohit scored a century, but even then India were 176/4 in 19 overs. In the final over, they went all in. Rohit hit a four and two sixes, a no ball helped before Rinku's three sixes took India past 200-run mark.

YUVRAJ SINGH 36 VS STUART BROAD | INDIA VS ENGLAND, SEP 2007

When Yuvraj did what he did (58 off 16), it was unheard of. No one saw it coming. No one knew what was happening. He came in, took the cricketing world by storm, blew Broad out of water. Six sixes in an over en route a 12-ball half-century, a record that stood till the 2022 Asian Games.

KIERON POLLARD 36 VS AKILA DANANJAYA | WEST INDIES VS SRI LANKA, MARCH 2021

Dananjaya had just taken a hat-trick. He had pushed WI into a shell, and then came Pollard. In the last over of the powerplay, he went berserk, smashed the spinner around the park for six consecutive sixes. He might have gotten out (38 from 11) in the next over, but did enough to set up the chase for WI.

NICHOLAS POORAN 36 VS AZMATULLAH OMARZAI | WEST INDIES VS AFGHANISTAN, JUN 2024

Perhaps, the most recent record during the recenty concluded T20 World Cup. One of the best T20 hitters in the world, Pooran went after Omarzai in the fourth over, starting with a six. The Afghan all-rounder did not help himself with a no ball and a wide-four. Pooran made the most with a four and two sixes — 36 runs from the over. He finished with 98 from 53 balls.

DIPENDRA SINGH AIREE 36 VS KAMRAN KHAN | NEPAL VS QATAR, APR 2024

Dipendra, at this point, had already broken the record for the fastest fifty (9 balls) during the Asian Games against Mongolia. Against Qatar, Nepal were 174/7 in 19 overs and needed the final push. Dipendra did just that with six maximums in the final over of the match, taking his score to 64 n.o from 21 balls.

New York drop-in pitch gets 'satisfactory' ratings

AGENCIES @ Dubai

THE ICC match referees have gone soft on the much-maligned pitches used for the New York leg of the T20 World Cup with six of the eight games, including the India versus Pakistan contest, getting a "satisfactory" rating.

Only two games at the makeshift Nassau County Cricket Stadium, including India's opening fixture against Ireland, have got an "unsatisfactory" rating from the game's governing body which remains bullish on promoting cricket in the United States. The surface used for the game between between Sri Lanka and South Africa also got thumbs down from the match referee. After a rather long delay, the ICC published the pitch ratings on its website on Tuesday. The tournament, won by India, was played from June 1 to 29. All eight games in New York ended up being low-scoring affairs, drawing scathing criticism from experts and fans during and after the ICC event. The cricket on display in New York was not the best advert for a sport trying to make its presence felt ahead of the 2028 Los Angeles Olympics, where it will make its debut. India played three games in New York. The drop-in tracks prepared in Adelaide by curator Damian Hough and transported to New York proved to be underprepared with hardly any testing before the opening game between South Africa and Sri Lanka. The surface came under fire for its unpredictable bounce and sluggish outfield.

Sinner escapes major sanction after two +ve tests

AP

TOP-RANKED tennis player Jannik Sinner tested positive twice for an anabolic steroid in March but will not be suspended because the International Tennis Integrity Agency (ITIA) determined the banned performance-enhancer entered his system unintentionally through a massage from his physiotherapist.

The ITIA announced the case's resolution on Tuesday and said Sinner will lose the $325,000 in prize money and 400 rankings points he earned at the tournament in Indian Wells, California, where his first positive drug test happened. "I will now put this challenging and deeply unfortunate period behind me," Sinner said in a statement posted on social media. "I will continue to do everything I can to ensure I continue to comply with the ITIA's anti-doping (program) and I have a team around me that are meticulous in their own compliance."

Jannik Sinner tested positive twice for a steroid in March but will not be suspended

Sinner won the Cincinnati Open on Monday and will be among the favourites at the US Open, which starts in New York next week. Sinner made his debut at No. 1 in the ATP rankings in June and is considered among the top stars of the new generation in men's tennis, along with Carlos Alcaraz.

Sinner, an Italian who turned 23 on Friday, won the Australian Open in January for his first Grand Slam title. He reached the semifinals at the French Open in June and the quarterfinals at Wimbledon in July, before sitting out the Paris Olympics, saying he had tonsilitis. During the Indian Wells hard-court event in March, Sinner tested positive for low levels of a metabolite of Clostebol, a banned anabolic steroid that can be used for ophthalmological and dermatological use. It's the same drug for which San Diego Padres star Fernando Tatis Jr. was suspended by MLB in 2022. Sinner tested positive again eight days later in an out-of-competition sample. He was provisionally suspended because of those test results, but he successfully appealed and was allowed to keep competing on tour. Sinner said his test results happened because his fitness trainer purchased an over-the-counter spray in Italy that contained Clostebol.

Vardy strikes as Leicester hold Spurs

AGENCIES @Leicester

ANGE Postecoglou admitted "wasteful" Tottenham lost their composure as Jamie Vardy's second-half equaliser gave Leicester a 1-1 draw against his profligate team on Monday.

Promoted Leicester survived a series of costly Tottenham misses either side of Pedro Porro's first-half opener for the visitors at the King Power Stadium. Vardy made Tottenham pay for their erratic finishing with a typically predatory header, capping his surprise appearance just days after he had been ruled out by Steve Cooper after suffering a pre-season injury. The 37-year-old has now scored nine PL goals against Tottenham, who trudged off wondering how they had failed to demolish Leicester during their dominant first-half display.

DAY'S DIARY

Mona Lisa stolen

Leonardo da Vinci's early 16th-century masterpiece was stolen in 1911 in one of the most audacious heists in art history

DISCOVERY

On the wall where the Mona Lisa used to hang, in between Correggio's Mystical Marriage and Titian's Allegory of Alfonso d'Avalos, sat only four iron pegs

INVESTIGATION

Since museum director Homolle was on vacation, the curator of Egyptian antiquities was contacted. He, in turn, called the Paris police

THE ROBBER

Leonardo Vincenzo, whose real name was Vincenzo Peruggia, was arrested. Born in Italy Peruggia had worked in Paris at the Louvre in 1908

Mat Pilates, with its blend of accessibility and versatility, is captivating the city's health-conscious crowd, proving that strength and grace can go hand-in-hand

ROUTINES & RESILIENCE

MONIKA MONALISA

THE toned physique of Hollywood actor Jennifer Aniston might seem like an unattainable dream, but it's far from impossible. The Friends star has given us a glimpse into her workout routine, which prominently features mat Pilates alongside Reformer Pilates. Aniston's endorsement may have inspired many to join the growing mat Pilates trend.

Mat Pilates is a form of Pilates performed on the floor using a mat, rather than specialised equipment like reformers or chairs. It focuses on building core strength, flexibility, balance, and overall body awareness. Mat Pilates exercises often include controlled movements that engage the deep muscles of the abdomen, back, and pelvis, as well as the limbs, to improve posture and stability.

Pooja Sharma, a fitness and wellness coach and avid traveller, was drawn to mat Pilates for its flexibility. "The reason so many people are trying this is because of how accessible it is. You don't need a studio, and it's perfect for those who travel. All you need is a mat, and you can do it at home," says Sharma.

Akshita Luthria, who works in branding, started practising mat Pilates six months ago for a different reason. "I used to go to the gym, but the traffic has become unbearable. When I found out about mat Pilates, I had an amazing instructor who guided me through it. It's been both effective and intense," says Luthria.

Many wonder whether mat Pilates is as effective as Reformer Pilates. Kavita Prakash, a Pilates instructor with 15 years of experience, clarifies that mat Pilates is rooted in the six key principles of Pilates: control, centring, breathing, concentration, flow, and precision. "Mat Pilates is the foundation of the entire pilates discipline. It relies on body weight for training and resistance, making it quite challenging. People often see quicker results, although the effects can fade faster too. Props like rings, resistance bands, and balls are also incorporated to increase difficulty," says Shetty, adding that Joseph Pilates, the founder, originally developed 34 mat exercises that are still practised today.

The reason so many people are trying mat Pilates is because of how accessible it is. You don't need a studio, and it's perfect for those who travel. All you need is a mat, and you can do it at home

PILATES VS YOGA

THE difference between Pilates and yoga has always been a topic of discussion. Instructor Aakruti Jagmohan highlights key distinctions. "While yoga is deeply rooted in spirituality, Pilates was created with rehabilitation as its root. Pilates involves repetitive, low-impact movements that target the smaller muscle groups of the body and increasing the intensity with holds and pauses, transitioning from one movement into another," explains Jagmohan. She adds that mat Pilates primarily targets core strength. Despite their differences, she notes, "Both disciplines emphasise the mind-body connection."

Against the Tide

Actor-singer Sreya Muthukumar's latest single, Won't Break for You embodies the spirit of perseverance

MONIKA MONALISA

'IT's a woman's world, and no one can suppress her.' Actor-singer Sreya Muthukumar not only believes in this fundamental philosophy but also brings it to life in her single, Won't Break for You – a powerful song that resonates with women standing strong against the world.

Muthukumar began developing the idea for the song in 2020 during the lockdown. "At that time, it was just a collection of lyrics in a notebook. I wrote around 20 songs, and it takes a lot of time to work on them. I collaborated with a friend – who is a producer – to compose them," Muthukumar explains, noting that it took her about four years to release new music.

The song reflects the voices of many women who are expected to be perfect. "I wrote the song during the pandemic; we went through a lot. I was alone, and that experience inspired me to write something about taking control of my own narrative. That frustration can manifest in many ways, like confronting your demons and internalising negativity," Muthukumar says, adding that she aimed to create a powerful anthem.

Muthukumar was last seen in the Amazon Prime series Akkad Bakkad Rafu Chakkar (2021). After that, she stepped away from acting and theatre to pursue further studies in the USA. "I received a scholarship from the University of Michigan for my master's in dance and theatre. I was also awarded a grant for my thesis, which led me to Mumbai to create a music video for the song," she shares.

The video song was released on Independence Day. "It's a fun video where an apsara comes to life, fighting against the world's expectations of her perfection," says Muthukumar. Currently in Mumbai, she is already working on her next song, Gentle, which is set to be released in a few months.

New age machismo

Whether through therapeutic circles, artistic exploration, or storytelling sessions, these gatherings in the city are creating a safe space where men can express their emotions and redefine what it means to be a man in today's world

POOJA DAS

MEN don't cry. They protect and serve, respect and honour. Occasionally, they might be allowed to let a tear escape in solitude, but under no circumstances can they cry, express, or nurture. But what happens to these bottled-up emotions? They often turn into rage, perpetuating a cycle of violence and abuse that harms both men and women across generations.

In a world that constantly pressures men to disconnect from their emotions and sense of self, Sahil Raina began organising therapeutic circles to build a community that encourages men to express themselves. "Why I started this is because, through my own experience, I realised that many aspects of my masculine nature didn't feel safe for me to embrace," says Raina, a wellness practitioner. "We try to understand where these aspects come from – what is often referred to as the masculine shadow – the need to dominate, the outbursts of anger, and an unhealthy relationship with power. I realised that my inability to express myself emotionally and be vulnerable was a generational pattern common among most men." The sessions explore various themes and worldviews, including archetypes like the warrior in relation to masculinity. "We tend to think of a warrior as someone who is strong and cannot feel fear, but we explore how to redefine the warrior as someone who is willing to embrace his vulnerability and learn that underneath this display of strength, there lies a scared child waiting to be held," he adds.

Using art to break constructs

At the Untitled Arts Foundation, Artistic Director Anuradha HR explores masculinity through a different lens – one that combines research with artistic expression. For Anuradha, the exploration of masculinity is intertwined with broader cultural constructs of gender. "Just as femininity differs in every cultural context, so does the idea of masculinity," shares Anuradha, who recently conducted a theatre art workshop called 'Being a Man'. "There are stereotypes that 'men do not express,' 'hold their emotions close' and 'do not cry'. While this notion is being questioned intellectually, it has yet to translate into meaningful groundwork," she says, adding that this narrative also 'leaves men defensive, which stems from their cultural upbringing.'

Similarly, city-based creative art therapist Shravanthi Venkatesh uses art, storytelling, and movement to create a safe space where men can reflect on their emotional landscape. "These sessions are reflective; they don't have a specific outcome," explains Venkatesh. "Instead, they provoke thought, question relationships, ethics, and culture."

Men explore various themes including patriarchy at this storytelling session

A therapeutic group session organised by Sahil Raina

One of the biggest crises in masculinity today, Venkatesh observes, is the disconnection from self-identity. "We are seeing women getting to know themselves, but men often seem to withdraw," she says. "We often don't hear narratives that challenge traditional roles of men, leading to the false belief that such narratives don't exist. But there are many men, young and old, who are truly invested in these changes."

Expanding the conversation

While Raina sees growing acceptance for such gatherings, he also acknowledges that they are still few and far between. "It's not something that happens regularly or consistently," he notes, adding that there will "always be a resistance in diving into uncomfortable issues but what's important is to create a safe container for men to express themselves authentically."

As Anuradha notes, "We cannot work only with women and expect equality to be achieved; it has to be a two-way process where both genders' constructs are challenged." Venkatesh agrees. "For any shift to occur, individuals first need to question their existing beliefs – the ones they've inherited from generations. This space to question is lacking, and that's one reason we don't see the kind of significant shifts in collective outlook that we desire," she adds.

Correct answers and names of first three respondents with right answers will be featured in CE.

① Inspired by the Chelsea Flower Show in London, one of the most significant events in the British calendar organised by the Royal Horticultural Society, John Cameron, the Superintendent of one of Bengaluru's iconic gardens, initiated the idea of hosting a grand flower show in the city to showcase the botanical riches of its gardens. Though it began on a modest scale, it was GH Krumbiegel, the founder of the Mysore Horticultural Society, who established it as a regular event in 1912. Today, the show is held on a grand scale, attracting huge crowds from both within and outside the city. Which iconic garden in the city hosts this flower show?

③ Floral names for roads and areas are not new to Bengaluru. An iconic road in one of the city's earliest extensions is named after the sampige (champak) flower as Sampige Road. The road was once lined with sampige plants on either side. Name the extension: Malleshwaram or Chamrajpet.

How to embrace the Pomodoro technique?

ASK AN XPERT

Amid the chaos, Pomodoro technique stands out as a proven method to enhance productivity and focus.

The basics: Named after the tomato-shaped kitchen timers, it involves setting a timer for 25 minutes of focused work, followed by a 5-minute break. After four cycles, a longer break of 15-30 minutes is taken. This rhythm prevents burnout.

Why it works: The Pomodoro technique aligns with our brains' natural tendency of short bursts of focus, allowing for intense work periods followed by rest. This fosters a state of flow, making work feel effortless.

Prioritising tasks: Using the Eisenhower Matrix, prioritise tasks into four quadrants: Urgent & Important, Important but Not Urgent, Urgent but Not Important, and Neither Urgent nor Important. Focus Pomodoros on crucial tasks for maximum impact.

Advanced techniques: Techniques like Thematic Pomodoros and Pomodoro Sprints can optimise productivity. Grouping similar tasks reduces context switching, while consecutive Pomodoros with shorter breaks boost progress on high-priority projects.

Real-life application: For example, an integrated marketing professional can use the Pomodoro technique to manage distractions and focus on complex tasks, resulting in higher quality work. It encourages deep work, regular breaks, and task prioritisation, essential for high performance.

DRUTA UTKATASANA VARIATION

(CHAIR POSE VARIATION FORWARD BEND PRAYER HANDS)

This is a beginner-level half-squat pose, which is a variation of Utkatasana. In this pose, the student aligns on a half squat with feet close to each other. Also, the forward bend and the prayer hands are positioned such that the knees nearly touch the armpits. Though Utkatasana is the base pose, the squat in this asana is deeper. It strengthens the legs and stabilise the hips. Beginners can start with the feet wide apart. With gradual practice you can join the feet. Due to the deep pelvic muscles opening, yoga teachers can use this pose for hip opening sequences.

STEPS

- Start in Tadasana (Mountain Pose), take a few breaths, stretch the torso upwards.
- Bring the toes together with the knees close to each other.
- Inhale, stretch the hands up in Namaskar Mudra, align to Tadasana Urdhva Hastasana Head Straight (Mountain Pose Raised Hands Head Straight).
- Exhale, lower your hips, bend your knees, lean forward, and lift your arms over the head.
- Your knees should not go beyond your toes. Ensure that the back of the knees, ankles, and heels are aligned. This is Utkatasana (Chair Pose).
- Inhale and squat deeper. Exhale, take a forward bend with the prayer hands. If the feet is a little apart, the armpits should touch the knees. Otherwise, the knees should touch the back of arms.
- Inhale and exhale. Stay in this pose as per your capacity.
- Release the pose from the squatting position. Inhale and stretch your arms above the head in namaskar mudra.
- Release the arms and realign to Tadasana.
- Repeat the pose as per your capacity and relax in Dirga Pranayama Tadasana (Three Part Breath Mountain Pose).

BENEFITS

- Helps stretch the lumbar spine, lower back muscles and fortifies the ankles.
- This pose helps progress in many advanced poses.
- It benefits the chest and the lungs, helps alleviate stress and tension.
- Helps pump blood to the heart and enhances cardiac functioning.
- This pose keeps the awareness and focus of the practitioners.
- Helps enhance the body alignment and posture.
- Helps improve agility and range of motion.
- Helps alleviate pelvic muscular stiffness and enhances lower back flexibility.
- Helps stimulate internal organs of the uterus, genitals, testes, and ovaries, and the excretory system and the organs connected to it.
- Helps clear toxic wastes from the digestive tract.
- Spiritually, this pose helps to stimulate the three chakras – Muladhara (Root), Svadhisthana (Sacral) and Manipura (Solar Plexus).
- Helps balance the emotions, and release the unwanted Apana Vayu from the body.
- Helps stimulate the systems of reproductive, urogenital and parasympathetic nervous systems.

LIMITATIONS

- Students with back ailments like slipped disc, sciatica, herniated disc, any chronic or abdominal issues or back injuries, should avoid this practice.
- Women during pregnancy should not practise this pose.
- Those with eye disorders like glaucoma or detached retina, have a tear in hamstrings, sudden sharp and shooting pain in the legs, must avoid this.

SPORTING SPIRIT

Writer Tanushree Podder's recent book has stories of passionate athletes, who strived to succeed for the nation against all odds

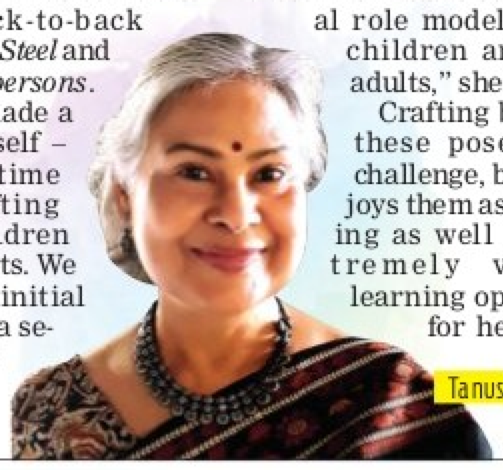
HOCKEY, javelin throw, wrestling...In a cricket-loving country, these games only become fascinating for us when our sportspersons represent the country at the Commonwealth Games or the Olympics. We revel in their wins and nurse a broken heart when they lose. Case in point: the nation mourned when wrestler Vinesh Phogat was disqualified, and stayed awake all night to watch Neeraj Chopra clinch a silver in javelin throw. As yet another Olympics season comes to a close, it seems like the right time to flip through Tanushree Podder's recent release Golden Sportspersons (HarperCollins Children's Books; ₹699).

The author believes that releasing the book at the perfect moment can make all the difference, and considering the Paris Olympics that opened in July, the team got down to business. "My editor, illustrator, and I worked hard to finish the book with no delays. I have spent more than a year working on Golden Sportspersons. The research part took a long time and was comprehensive, as every detail had to be checked to ensure accuracy. It was also crucial to update the achievements and records of every athlete consistently after each event," she says.

Aimed at young adults, the book has a selection and equal number of male and female sportspersons from the country. It retells the stories of grit, determination, and struggles of players from across sports, and serves as a ready reckoner for all those who want to know a bit more about their beloved sports personalities. From Mirabai Chanu and Praggnanandhaa R to Jhulan Goswami and Annu Rani, the book includes many a sporting legend. "I want the readers to understand the importance of perseverance. One can achieve anything with fortitude. Success will follow," she adds. Illustrator Pallavi Jain's drawings of each of the personalities with their special wins and qualities add colour to the narration.

From the author's desk

Having written across genres, this year, Podder has come out with two back-to-back books – Men of Steel and Golden Sportspersons. "This year, I made a promise to myself – to spend my time writing uplifting books for children and young adults. We published the initial three books as a series intended for children aged six to eight. Boo-Boo, the adorable ghost protagonist of the series, has a deep affection for humans and a strong desire to assist them in preserving the environment. My goal was to make the introduction of environment protection interesting and impactful. Men of Steel features stories about the courage of brave Indian soldiers from the army, air force, and navy. I also wanted to bring out the stories of some soldiers from the northeastern region of the country who have largely been ignored by the media. Golden Sportspersons is a tribute to the resilient athletes of our nation. These individuals serve as ideal role models for our children and young adults," she explains.



Tanushree Podder

Crafting books like these poses a real challenge, but she enjoys them as it's thrilling as well as an extremely valuable learning opportunity for her. During the process of writing Golden Sportspersons, Podder found the stories of Dipa Karmakar, Annu Rani, and Swapna Barman particularly fascinating. "There is a significant dearth of literature on these women. The stories of Neeraj Chopra and Avinash Sable filled me with excitement because their stories are full of grit and determination," she adds.

Stories to motivate

Most Indian athletes who have made a mark in the international circuit are often from an impoverished background and struggle to reach the top with limited facilities. She narrates, "Hima Das, also known as the Dhing Express, hailing from a small village in Assam, did not even have a proper pair of running shoes. Despite practicing on a muddy and uneven football field, she brought great honour to our nation by winning five consecutive gold medals in just one year. Dipa Karmakar, a girl from a small town, with flat feet, made history with her daring and risky stunt known as the 'Vault of Death'. She is one of the five gymnasts in the entire world who can execute the Produnova Vault. Swapna Burman, whose father works as a rickshaw puller, faced challenges in finding the right shoes because of her having six toes on each foot. Yet, the girl brought home India's first heptathlon Gold in the Asian Games. Avinash Sable would walk or run 6km to school and back when he was six years old. It was their unwavering love for the sport that motivated these sportspersons to overcome obstacles and realise their aspirations."

The author's goal, hence, was to highlight the success stories of such athletes. "The stories are focused on offering encouragement to aspiring athletes who come from underprivileged backgrounds. I hope the stories would not only motivate the children but also the parents to spot the potential in their children and encourage them to take up sports," she adds.

Podder is currently working on a new book for young adults and hopes to finish it by the end of the year.

Unusual Books with Bizarre Titles

LIBRORUM RIDICULORUM

EVERYONE POOPS
THE MADMAN'S LIBRARY
GAMES YOU CAN PLAY WITH YOUR PUSSY
NO ONE LIKES A FART

ONE of the most interesting exhibitors I encountered at the 56th Annual Antiquarian Book Fair in San Francisco was 'Jarndyce Antiquarian Booksellers'. After spending a couple of hours at the fair, I realised that the only book I could afford was Librorum Ridiculorum: A Compendium of Bizarre Books by Brian Lake, priced at $17. I was immediately drawn into the world of strange and unusual books.

While I have not read most of these books (as they are out of print and are rarely available), I am keen to learn more about them. A book like Invisible Dick is a clever play on words (Dick Brett being a name), while How to Abandon Ship offers practical advice to mariners (this book was published at the height of World War II, during which around 2,500 merchant ships were sunk in the Atlantic). Erections on Allotments is a guide to the construction (erection) of houses while Learning to Play with Lion's Testicles by Melissa Haynes borrows an African saying that means 'to take foolhardy chances'!

Fancy Coffins to Make Yourself by Dale Power is one book I don't intend to buy, as I would rather leave coffin-making to a professional! Games You Can Play with Your Pussy brings your mind back from the gutter to the original meaning of the word 'pussy' since this is a book for cat owners. Everyone Poops by Taro Gomi is a bestselling children's book – and yes, it is about poop. This wonderful, modern-day toddler classic presents information that children both want and need in a refreshingly honest, informative, and age-appropriate way. I wish I'd read it when my son was a toddler!

Now that we've mentioned poop, can farts be far behind? No One Likes a Fart is an amusing picture book that shows even the smelliest among us can find a friend in this world! He-Gassen (literally: 'fart competition') is a Japanese scroll from the Edo period (1603-1868) by an unknown artist, depicting characters exercising flatulence against one another. Atomic Bombing: How to Protect Yourself was written at a time when atomic bombing was a real and present danger, while the actual effects were little understood. The dust jacket design is a classic, featuring an unmistakable phallus emitting a nuclear cloud above a destroyed city.

Some of the strangest and most obscure books are those you would scarcely believe exist, but they do. There are books bound in human skin and books written in blood! Bookbinding with human leather dates back to at least the thirteenth century, with records of a Latin Bible bound in the skin of an unknown woman. I was particularly intrigued by the Quran written in the blood of Saddam Hussein! This 605-page holy book was commissioned by the Iraqi dictator in 2000 and written over two years using 50 pints of his own blood. The Blood Quran is hidden in a vault and preserved as a document of Saddam's brutality.

A book that I thoroughly enjoyed is The Madman's Library by Edward Brooke-Hitching. The compilation includes books that kill, books of the insane, books that hoaxed the globe, books invisible to the naked eye, books so long that they could destroy the universe, books worn into battle, and books of code and cypher whose secrets remain undiscovered. Spellbooks, alchemist scrolls, wearable books, edible books, books to summon demons, books written by ghosts, and many even stranger books – this is a captivating and beautifully illustrated compendium perfect for any book lover. So, while most bizarre books are not worth reading, they do serve as a lighthouse in the vast sea of time.

These days, whenever I visit an antiquarian bookstore, I ask the bookseller, "What is the most bizarre book you have come across?"

Stunt master Ravi Varma is choreographing an epic fight sequence as the production house spares no expense for the film featuring Shivarajkumar, Upendra, and Raj B Shetty

ARJUN JANYA SET FOR A 40-DAY MARATHON SHOOT FOR 45'S CLIMAX

A SHARADHAA

ARJUN Janya, known for his music, steps into the director's chair with his ambitious debut project 45, a multistarrer featuring the iconic Shivarajkumar, Upendra, and Raj B Shetty. Produced by Ramesh Reddy, this film has already stirred excitement with its grand scale and all-star cast.

The latest buzz surrounds the film's massive climax, which is currently being filmed at a specially constructed 2-acre set in Jigani. To be shot over the next 40 days, this climactic sequence will feature an epic action block choreographed by well-known stunt master Ravi Varma. With 100 fighters kicking off the sequence and the star trio—Shivarajkumar, Upendra, and Raj B Shetty—joining in later, the makers are trying to ensure that the climax turns out to be spectacular.

The production team is sparing no expense in their attempt to confirm that every detail is perfect. Arjun Janya, while keeping the character details of all the actors under wraps, recently revealed a close-up look of Shivarajkumar. The makers also shot an elaborate song sequence on a sprawling set in Silicon City, featuring thousands of junior artists and dancers. This sequence was captured using cutting-edge technology like Mocobot and rope cameras.

45 is being made under the Suraj Productions banner, with Kaustubha Mani as the female lead and Satya Hegde behind the camera.

'The script demands a large cast to set up a comedy of errors'

Diganth, Sharmiela Mandre, and Dhanya Ramkumar give their take on the upcoming film Powder, billed as a crowd-pleaser and a hilarious blend of comedy and crime

CE FEATURES

DIRECTOR Janardhan Chikkanna's upcoming film Powder, from the production banners KRG Studios and TVF, deftly blends comedy with crime in a thrilling narrative, according to Diganth, Sharmiela Mandre, and Dhanya Ramkuamr. Ahead of the film's release this week, the actors say that Powder promises to tickle the funny bone while keeping the audience on edge. The film's plot revolves around an ingenious yet comical smuggling operation where drugs are disguised as ordinary talcum powder. This inventive twist adds a layer of humour and suspense to the storyline, making it an entertaining watch, as per the cast of Powder.

The film has many references, and to begin with, Dhanya Ramkumar humorously likens her personal preference to 'spicy powder'. In contrast, Sharmiela fondly reminisces about the days of Johnson's baby powder and compact powder, saying, "Back then, the compact powder was a staple, and Johnson's was a beloved choice." Diganth, reflecting on his teenage years, adds, "High school was all about looking stylish, but we had to keep our powder use discreet because it wasn't exactly encouraged."

Powder is a comedy that combines crime and humour, featuring a talented cast and a director adept at blending genres. As Sharmiela puts it, "The film is not just a means to escape reality but an enjoyable experience with humour and thrills. With its clever plot and engaging performances, Powder is set to be a crowd-pleaser, offering a unique take on the comedy-crime genre."

The film features a diverse ensemble cast, including Rangayana Raghu, Ravi Shankar Gowda, Nagabhushan, Anirudh Acharya, and Gopal Krishna Deshpande, among others. Despite concerns that having nine principal characters might confuse viewers, Sharmiela reassures, "The script demands a large cast to set up a comedy of errors. The film's humour and drama are enhanced by the interaction among these characters." Diganth compares the film's style to the classic comedy Hera Pheri, and Sharmiela notes, "Powder is more like a situational comedy where the situations themselves generate laughter, rather than relying on slapstick."

As for the cast, director Janardhan Chikkanna plays a crucial role in balancing humour with suspense. "Janardhan's calm and prepared approach made the process smoother," says Diganth. "He edited the film besides shooting it, thus allowing us to see the scenes with background scores, which helped us understand the tone better." Sharmiela praises Janardhan Chikkanna's direction, highlighting his ability to guide the cast through the comedic elements of the film. "Janardhan's confidence in us and his meticulous preparation were key to delivering a successful comedy," she says.

The ensemble cast also includes Rangayana Raghu, who "steals the show," says Sharmiela. Producers Karthik Gowda and Yogi G Raj provided essential support, ensuring the film's success. "A film like Powder needed the right producers to bring it all together," concludes Dhanya Ramkumar.

Rishi-Nandeesh's Rudra Garuda Purana draws from Pan Am Flight 914 mystery

CE FEATURES

THE initial poster for Rudra Garuda Purana, featuring Rishi and Priyanka Kumar alongside Lady Justice, with their eyes folded and set against the backdrop of a blazing bus, had created a significant buzz. This striking image hinted at the film's thrilling and mysterious nature.

Following his notable role in Kavaludaari, Rishi returns as a khaki-clad detective in Rudra Garuda Purana. The recently unveiled teaser offers a glimpse into an intriguing narrative centred around a bus involved in a mysterious accident 25 years ago. The bus has reappeared under enigmatic circumstances, adding to the film's mysterious allure.

Director KS Nandeesh, known for Dear Vikram, has infused the film with a unique twist inspired by the notorious case of Pan Am Flight 914. In 1955, a Douglas DC-4 vanished after takeoff, only to reappear three decades later. This eerie real-life mystery provides a compelling backdrop for Rudra Garuda Purana, with the 17A Kaveri Express bus playing a pivotal role in the storyline. The teaser teases a high-octane blend of action and suspense, featuring gripping dialogues and impressive action sequences that explore themes of justice and mystery, revolving around the film's suspense.

CE has learnt that Prithvi director Jacob Varghese pitched the story, penned by Nandeesh, to the late Puneeth Rajkumar, who had shown keen interest in the project. Although unforeseen circumstances prevented the project from moving forward at that time, Rishi now headlines the film, bringing his distinctive flair to the role of Inspector Rudra.

Produced by Ashwini Lohith under the banner of Ashwini Arts, Rudra Garuda Purana marks the production company's debut. The film also features a talented ensemble cast including Vinod Alva, Avinash, Shivaraj KR Pete, Giri, KS Shridhar, Ashwini Gouda, Ram Pavan, Vamshi, Aakarsh, Joseph, Prabhakar, Gautam Mysuru, Sneek Shyam, and Ranganath Bharadwaj, along with comedy stars Jagappa, Prasanna Handrang, Radvi, and others in supporting roles.

The makers are aiming for a 2024 release but are yet to finalise the exact date.

Jayasurya Azad: Every actor's contribution in cinema is valued today

CE FEATURES

AS Vijay Kumar's latest directorial, Bheema, enjoys a successful run in theaters, Jayasurya R Azad, who makes his silver screen debut with the film, is basking in the glow of newfound acclaim. Despite his role having limited screen time, the newcomer is thrilled that his part in the film has garnered significant attention.

In Bheema, Jayasurya plays the son of a politician, a character intricately tied to the film's plot involving a notorious drug peddler. Reflecting on his role, Jayasurya shared, "My role as the MLA's son connects with some real-life incidents, adding value to the narrative. The film's first half makes my role seem empathetic, while the second half seamlessly integrates him into the film's narrative. Even though I had limited screen time, the response has been overwhelmingly positive. This debut has opened doors for me and has been a positive step in my acting career."

Looking ahead, Jayasurya is enthusiastic about exploring a range of roles. "I'm open to any character as long as it fits the bill. Whether it's an antagonist or a lead role, I'm interested in parts with a strong impact. Today's cinema values every actor's contribution, not just the hero or villain," he explained.

In addition to his acting career, Jayasurya is also pursuing his education in law. He's already been approached for new roles and is being considered for a part in Raghu Shivamogga's upcoming project. "I'm excited about the potential opportunities. However, I can confirm my participation once the final cast is set," he concludes.
